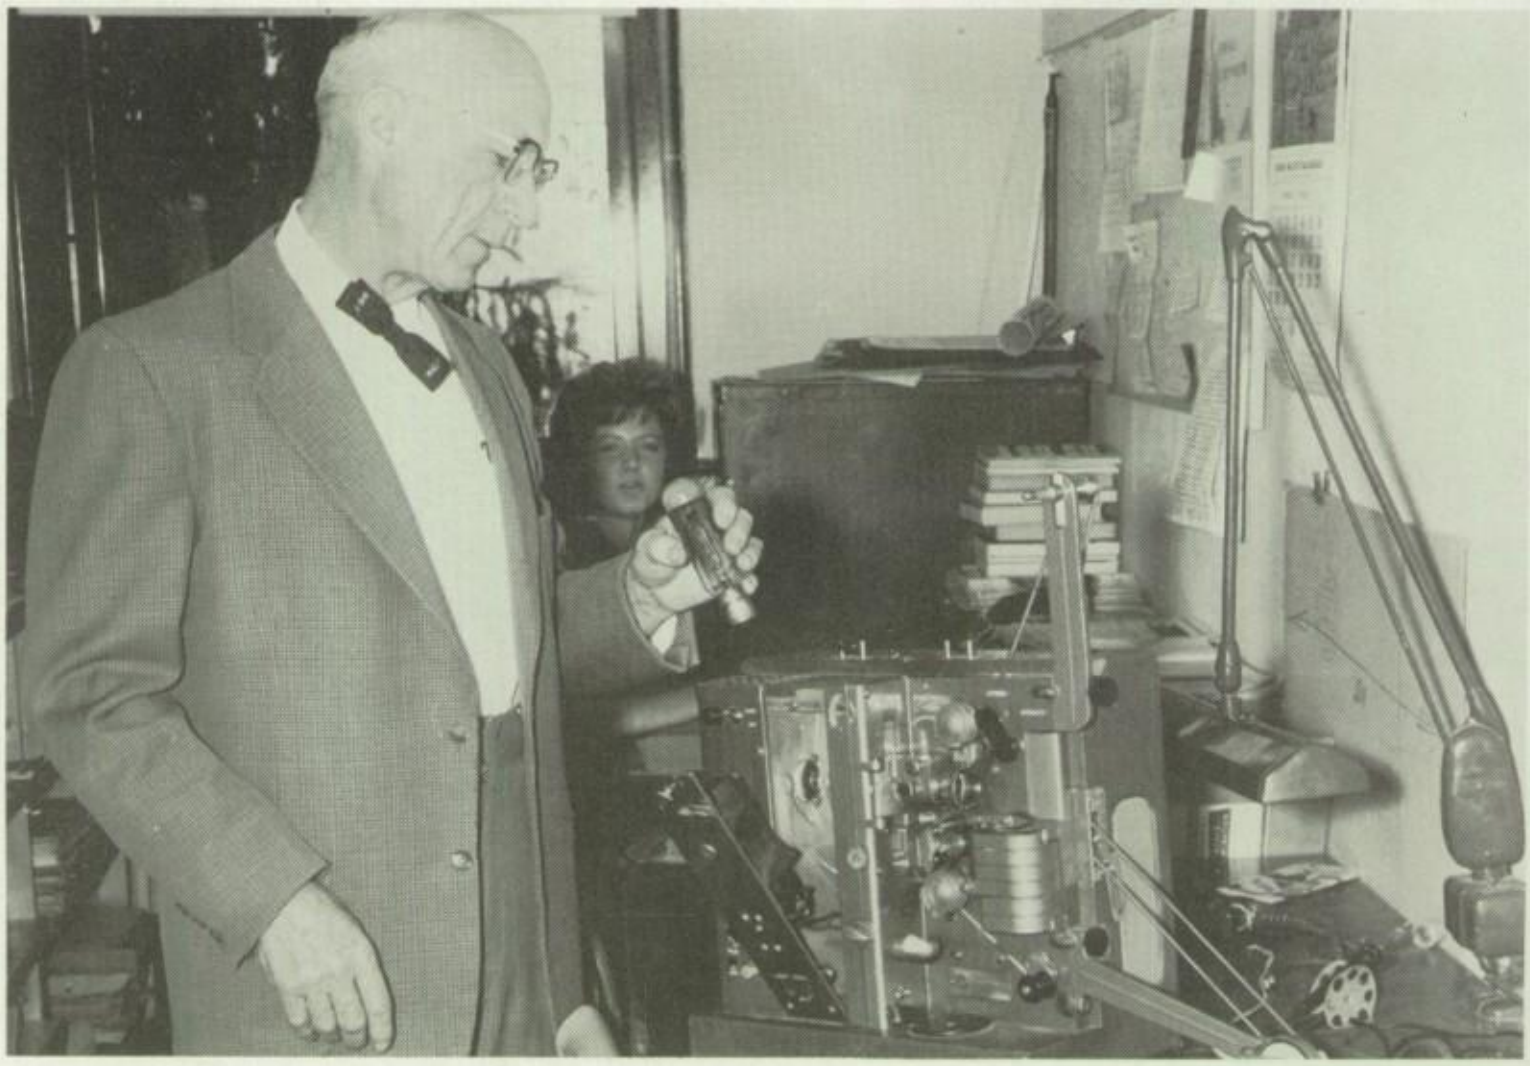
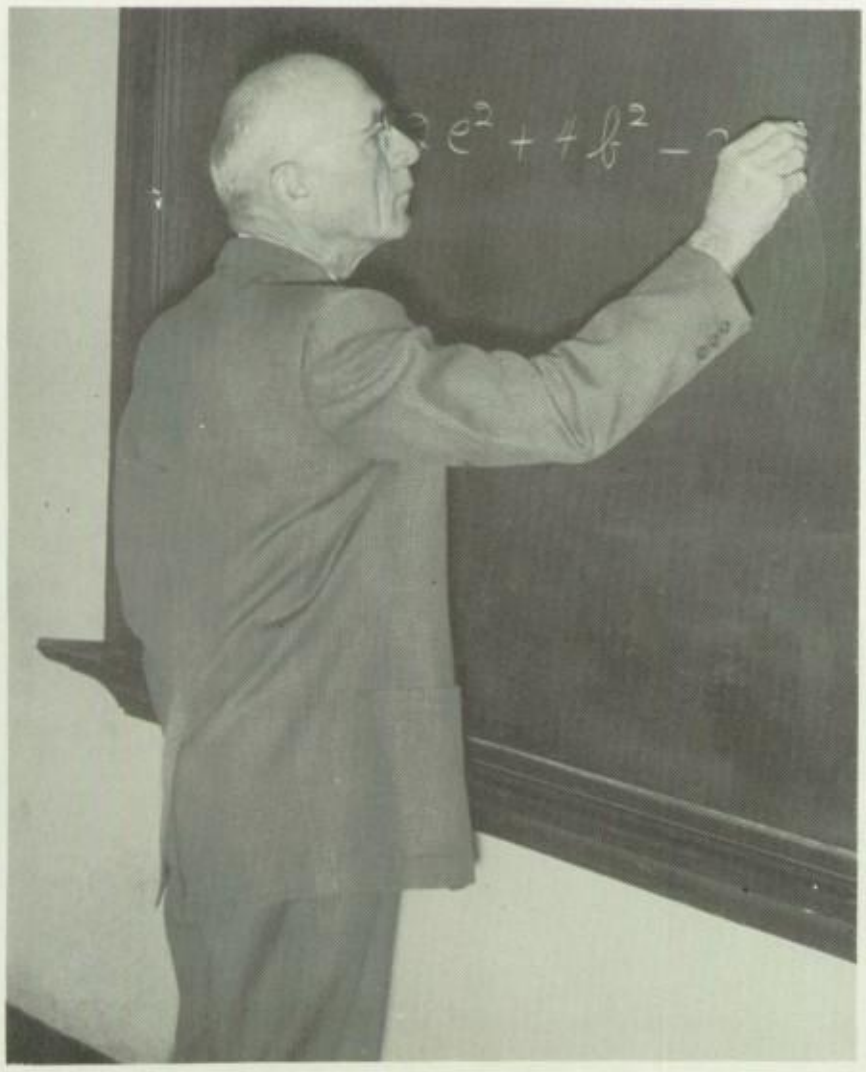
1963 Spud Dedicated to Mr. Coffey

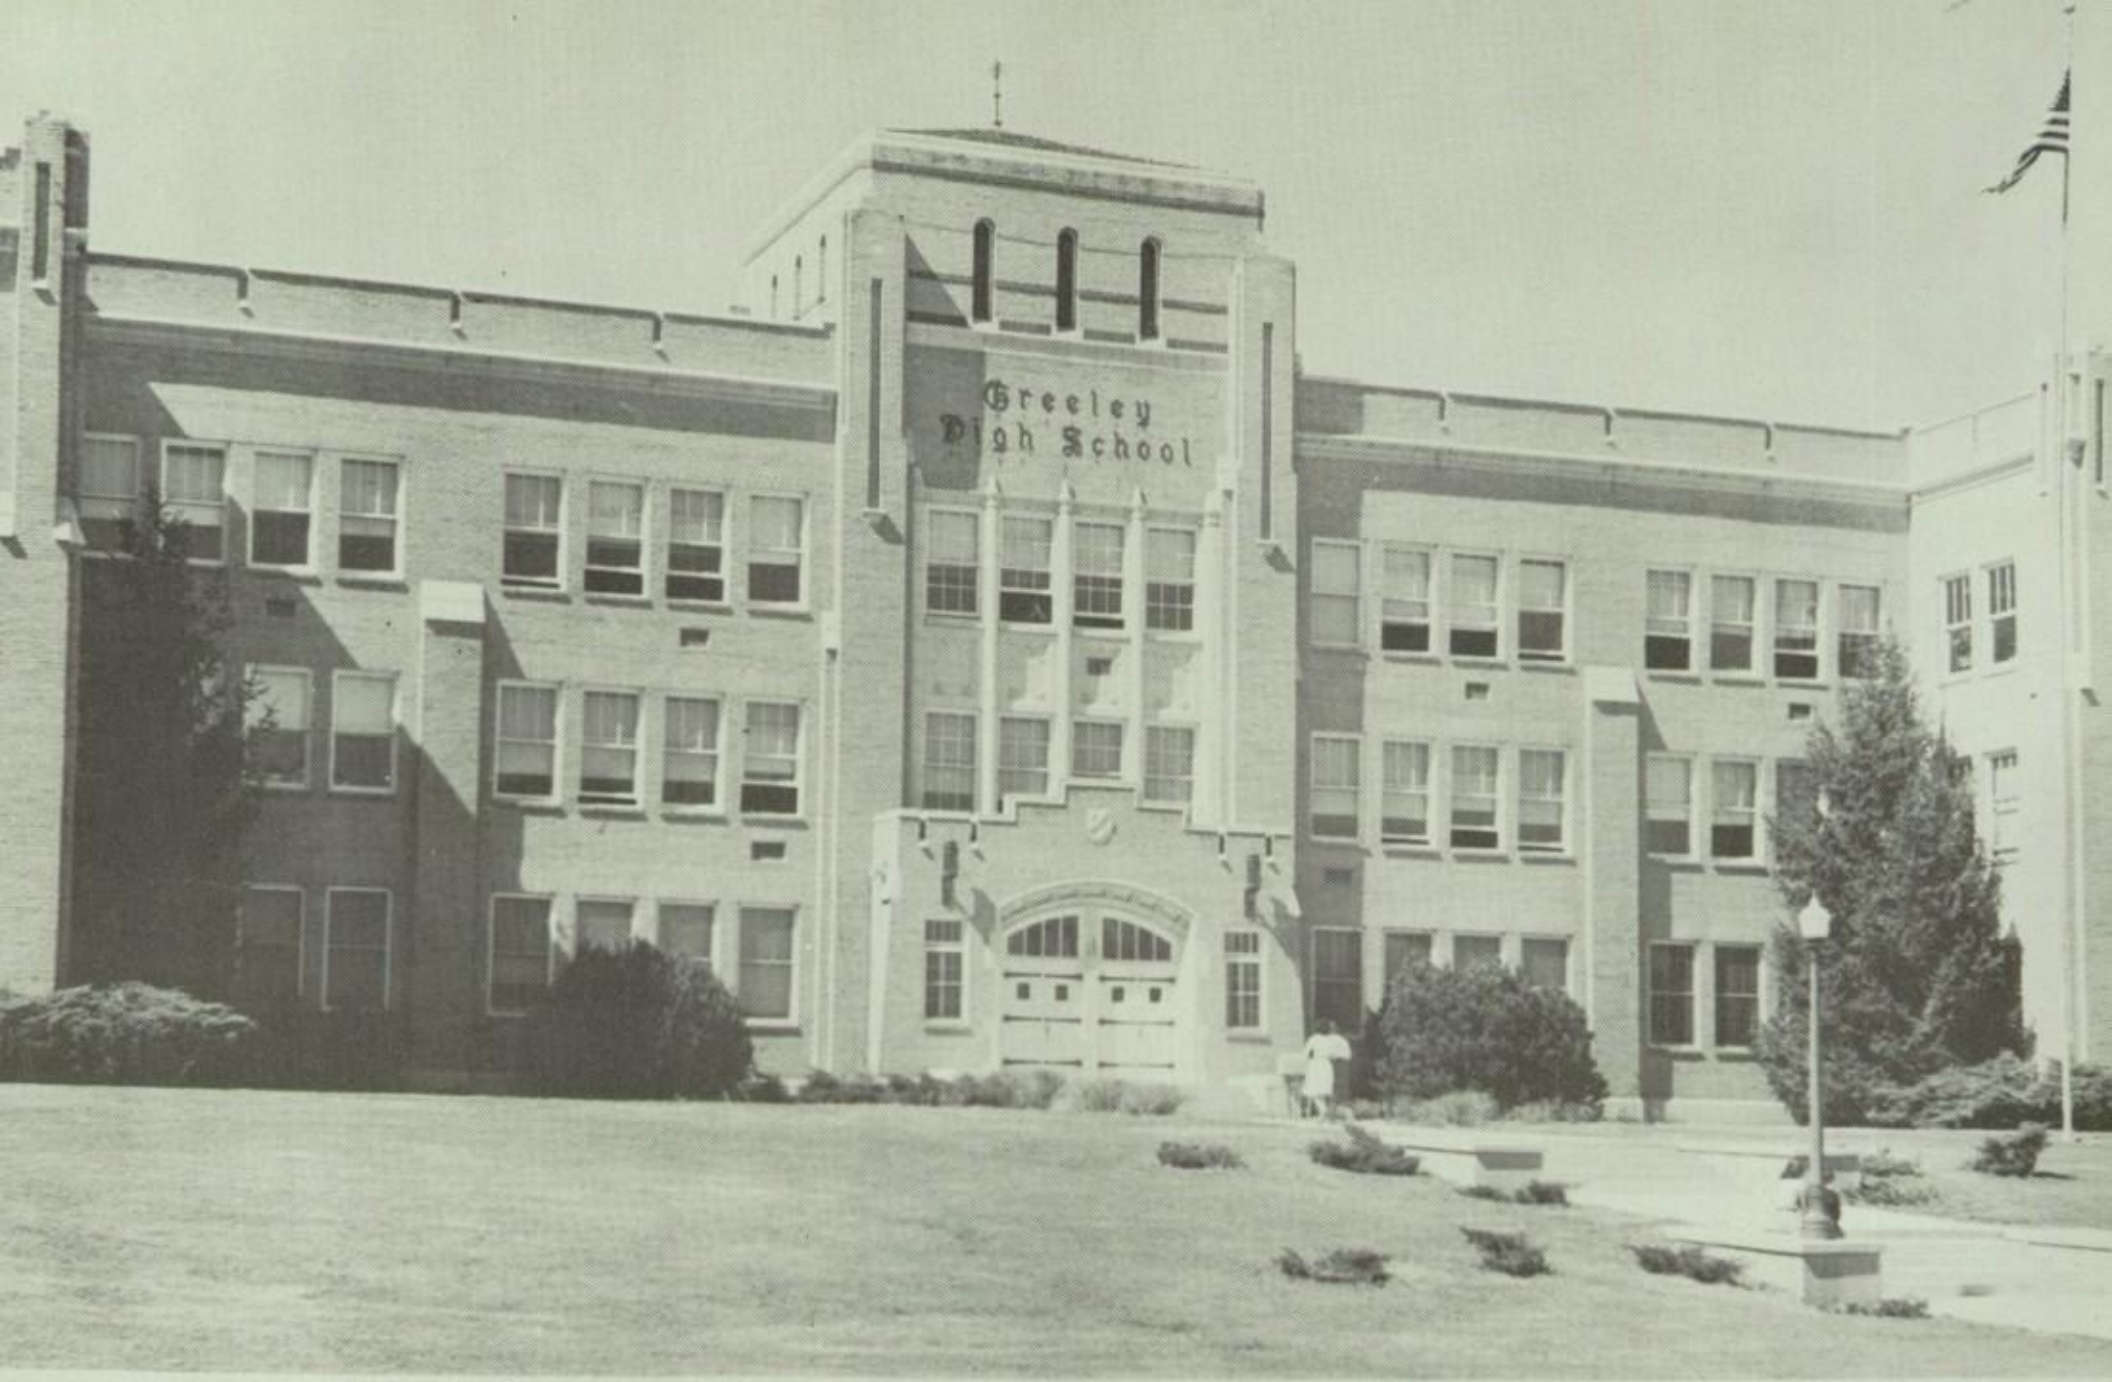


Part of Mr. Coffey's job of maintaining projection equipment is to see that machines are in complete operating order before being used by teachers.



Mr. Coffey demonstrates to his general math classes the use of algebraic formulas for finding perimeters and areas.

Throughout his twenty years at GHS, Mr. Clarence Coffey's interest in people and his friendly smile have won him many friends. During his years at GHS he has taught physics and mathematics, but he is probably more well known for his work in the audio-visual department. He has been responsible for the maintenance and repair of all equipment as well as the film service for high school teachers. Mr. Coffey will be missed by students and faculty alike.



Think Big

Setting goals, attaining them, and resetting them—the process of thinking big is continually taking place at Greeley High School. From the opening assembly to graduation day, high ideals and fine accomplishments are a part of the students at GHS. Upon their arrival new students are challenged to uphold the honor of the school and to reach new heights of achievement in all phases of student life. At graduation seniors are reminded not only of their past accomplishments, but also of the obligation they have to look to the future with big hopes and big ideas. Instilled with this philosophy of thinking big, whether about a routine school assignment or a decision in later life, the Wildcats reach new crossroads. Always aiming for higher goals, they realize that they reached that plateau by thinking big.

GHS Students Think Big in Giving Patty Piper some advice on registration for next year. Joyce Vaughn consults the Highlight for information.

Butch Butler, president of the student body, welcomes the returning and new students to Greeley High after summer vacation.

Enthusiastic Wildcat supporters take part in the pep rally at Lincoln Park during Homecoming week.

Greeley High students and alumni enjoyed the music of Don Smith's Band at the 1962 Homecoming Dance.

All Phases of School Activities...

"You're falling behind," shouts Chuck Andre to the band during the Homecoming parade.

Margaret Keyes doesn't seem to be too happy about picture day. Mr. Bratvold of School Pictures, Inc. does his best to get a pleasant smile.

"Oh no, I don't look like that!" exclaims Margaret Keyes as she sees her swap pictures for the first time. Judy Devine and Ann Vaughn seem to agree.

Rating High in Scholarship,

During a routine locker clean-out, Glenda Shupe finds that long-lost senior English book.

After students file back to class, the GHS halls are a scene of utter chaos. Misplaced books, lone tennis shoes, unwanted papers, and missing pages fill the halls.

After a hectic locker clean-out, senior Dianne Maxey wonders how long her locker will stay neat and tidy.

Even cold weather doesn't dampen the spirit of enthusiastic Pep Purrs.

Homecoming Queen Margie Estrick and sophomore Attendant Anne Gilbert find their places on the throne following half-time ceremonies during the homecoming game with Boulder.

Sports, and Additional Interests...

Working busily at the newly-purchased IBM accounting machine, Judy Meyer transfers names from cards to file papers.

Questions from Calendar Girl judges fail to disturb Mary Lee Omer's poise and composure.

Former Miss Greeley High, Margie Estrick, relinquishes her crown to Sue Andre, Miss Greeley High of 1963.

Before performing at the Denver Bronco Thanksgiving day football game, many hours of extra practice were required by the marching band, including some afternoon sessions such as this.

Their Overall Achievements

Tired, but satisfied Pep Purrs jam the equipment room trying to retrieve their coats and purses after a Wildcat victory.

Advanced Choir performs one of their contest numbers, "An Evening Song to God," during a concert given for the school by the music department.

are Unmatched in Excellence

Mr. Jones watches intently as a Public Health nurse reads Sharon Downing's TB tine test.

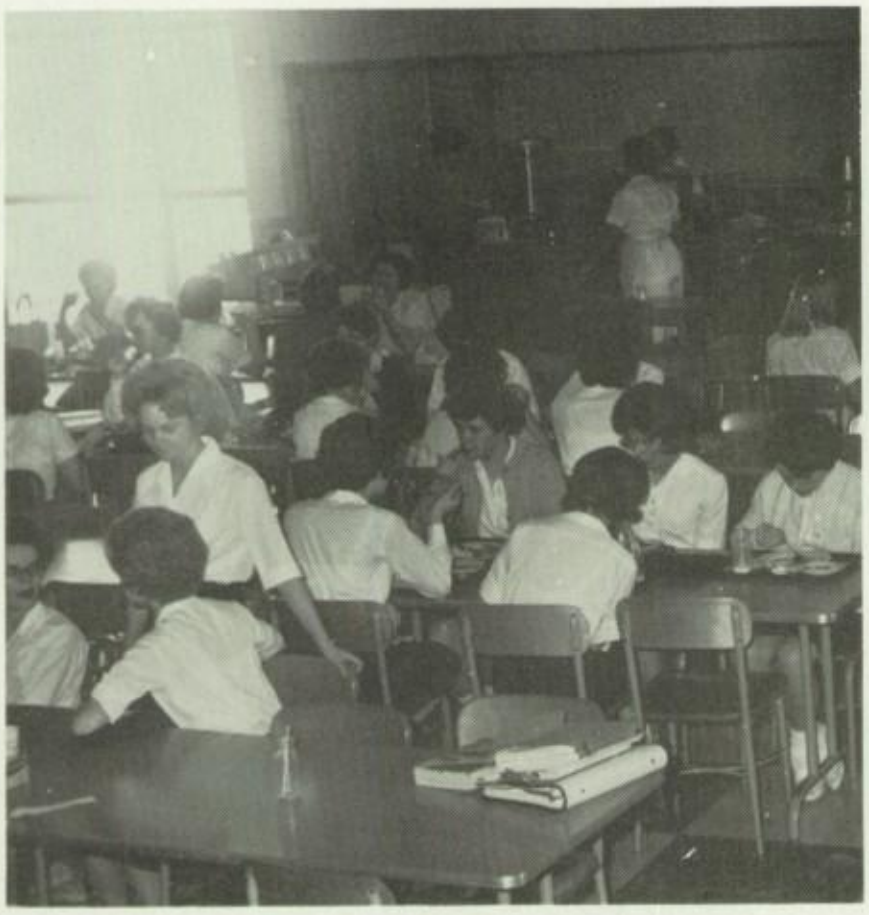
Clever and colorful posters and banners marked the campaigns for next year's student body officers.

Sandy Dumler calls upon Mrs. Osborne for assistance with one of the many problems of next year's registration.

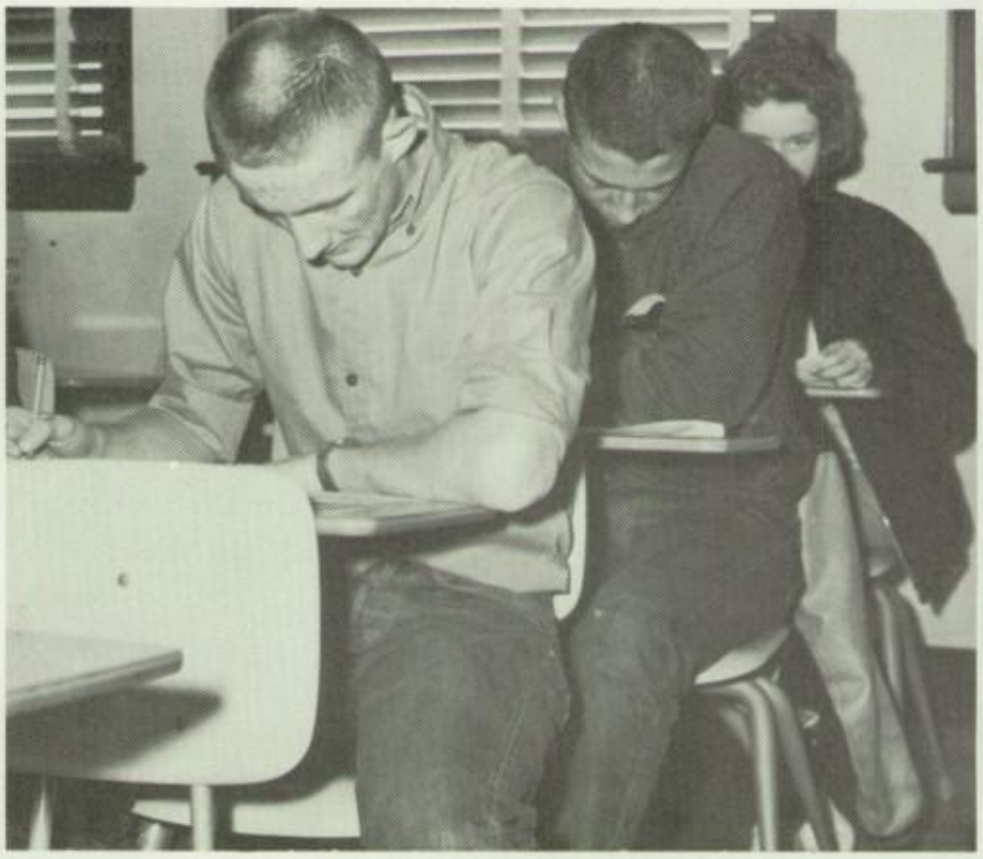
Val Osborne and Nancy Brown pass Highlights on to some voluntary studyhall helpers for distribution to third hour classes.

Students on the 1963 Educational Tour pause in front of the Colorado State emblem in the Washington Monument.

Present GHS Students Set High



Meeting friends and catching up on the latest gossip takes place during the lunch period in the school cafeteria.

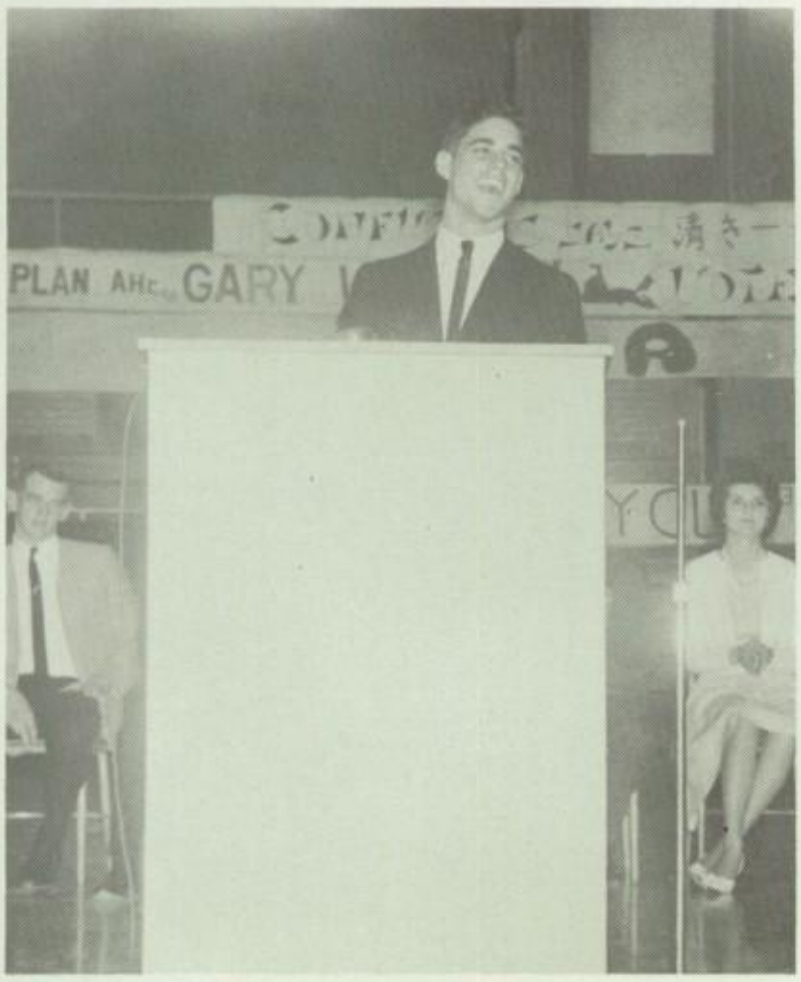


Students are convinced that teachers assign themes merely because students have difficulty writing them. Here three GHS juniors concentrate on themes for English class.

Willy's Woodsie provided a chance for couples to dress casually and dance in an informal atmosphere.

Standards for Classes to Come

Students and teachers fill the halls as they hurry to and from classes.



Bob Shwayder laughs as though making some hilarious campaign promises as a candidate for student body president.

Larry Sweitzer conducts a junior council meeting to decide on the prom theme and decorations.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Honors

Students at Greeley High excell in academic as well as athletic and creative areas. These students who are capable of earning top honors have our congratulations and encouragement. We hope that they will further their accomplishments in the future and live up to the fine reputation which they have given our school.

Four Seniors Maintain Four-Point Average

Four GHS seniors qualified for the Scholarship Gold G Award this year. In order to qualify for this honor, it is necessary for these students to maintain a four-point average through all three years of high school. These were the academically outstanding members of the senior class.

Cheryl Layton

Jane Mariani

Janet Murphy

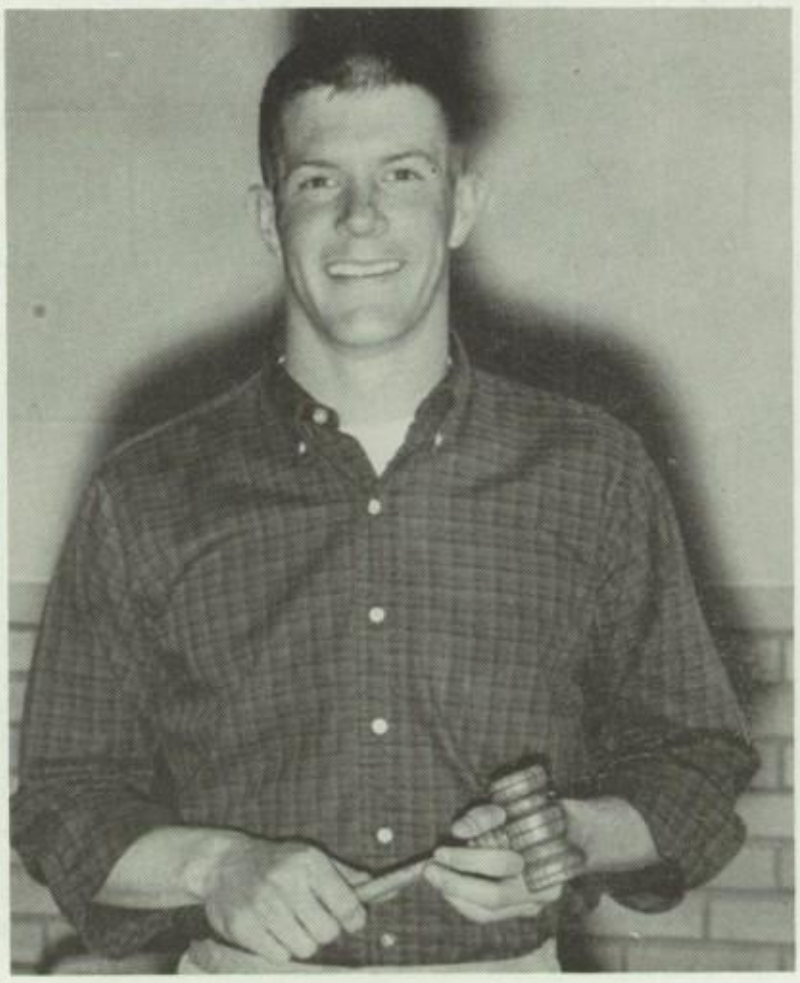
Ken Weaver

Leadership Gold G Awarded to Four

A few students are traditionally chosen from the senior class for their leadership and service to the school. Students qualified to receive this honor are nominated by a faculty and administrative committee. All seniors are then allowed to vote for those whom they feel are most deserving of the Leadership Gold G's.

JAN LUNDVALL

KATHY PORTER



BUTCH BUTLER

FRANK DELGADO

Boys' State representatives were: Tom Wheeler, Danny Meyer, Jan Karowsky, Joe Stander, Tom Jones, and Jerry Meyer.

Five girls and two alternates were chosen to attend the annual Girls' State held on the Colorado Woman's College campus in Denver. Junior girls in the top one-third of their class were invited to a coke party sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion. They voted for twelve girls to represent them. After writing letters of application, the final seven were chosen through interviews.

Boys' State delegates were chosen by a vote of the members of the junior class. They will take part in the student government activities on the University of Colorado campus in Boulder.

Eleven Juniors Represent GHS

Girls' State representatives were: Lilis Waldo, Nancy Gates, Kathy Roehrich, Diane Brown, Janet Boyd, Karel Stewart, and Marilyn Houtchens.

DAR Good Citizen

Jan Lundvall's leadership, character, and service have been of great benefit to the community. She has been active in many organizations and has supported worthwhile projects. Being elected president of GA has shown the faith of the student body in Jan's ability and desire.

Outstanding GAA

Marsha Miller was a natural choice for outstanding GAA member. Her love of sports and her fine leaderhsip abilities well qualified her for this award. As president of GAA, she supervised the planning and carrying-out of many projects and activities. She was also chosen the outstanding sophomore in GAA and has received her GAA pin.

Outstanding Pep Pur

Linda Brown has done an outstanding job of leading school spirit and support. Holding the office of vice-president and president of Pep Club, Linda has enthusiastically supported athletic activities and has encouraged others to do so too. Promoting good sportsmanship at sports contests, she has ably represented Greeley High at all times.

Honors Seminar Reads Discusses Outstanding Literature

Honors Seminar was composed of a group of seniors selected by a committee of English teachers and administrators. Their selections were based on grades, test scores, and recommendations. Meeting once every two weeks at the home of a member, they read and discussed books of importance about governments and societies. Authorities and well-versed on the various subjects led the discussions which were conducted in a casual atmosphere to stimulate spontaneous participation.

Members were: Anne Accola, Leslie Addison, Diana Burton, Judy Debban, Cappie Fine, Dick Florio, Penny Franks, Dick Gladstone, Ollie Kerr, Cheryl Layton, Jane Mariani, Janet Murphy, Charol Reever, Roger Ruppe, Joan Takamine, Cindy Telep, Terry Turner, Jim Warren, Ken Weaver.

Relaxing at an Honors Seminar meeting, Janet Murphy, Ken Weaver, and Terry Turner are proof of the informality of the group.

Jim Warren follows the reading of a passage in his book, while Cindy Telep waits to ask a question concerning the character of George Weber.

Royalty

Every girl and boy at Greeley High School has some desire to be a Prom Queen, FFA Queen, Homecoming Queen, Calendar Girl, or King Argyle. Although we all know that only five people will be lucky enough to realize their ambitions, our dreams are not marred. To these selected people we send our heartiest congratulations.

As a prelude to the annual Future Farmers of America Rodeo held on Memorial Day, Jolene Walker, junior candidate, was crowned 1962 FFA Queen. Her attendants were Jill Kaveny, senior, and Shirley Perry, sophomore. Candidates were chosen from all interested girls. Each class voted for one girl to be its representative. From these three girls the FFA Club chose the queen.

Athletics

Greeley High School's athletic reputation has traditionally been one of outstanding ability. This has held true throughout the years. Although the victories were not always on our side this year, the desire was still there. Our boys put forth their best effort and strove to make it the best year possible.

on High Note

Coach Bob Kula designated Butch Butler and Louie Doll as the two players who put forth the most consistent, above-average effort during the season. Butler and Doll, both seniors, and junior Jim Basey were named to Honorable Mention on the 1962 All Conference Coaches Team.

Because the west grandstands of Greeley's football field were found to be unsafe, Greeley High's last three home games were played at Jackson Field.

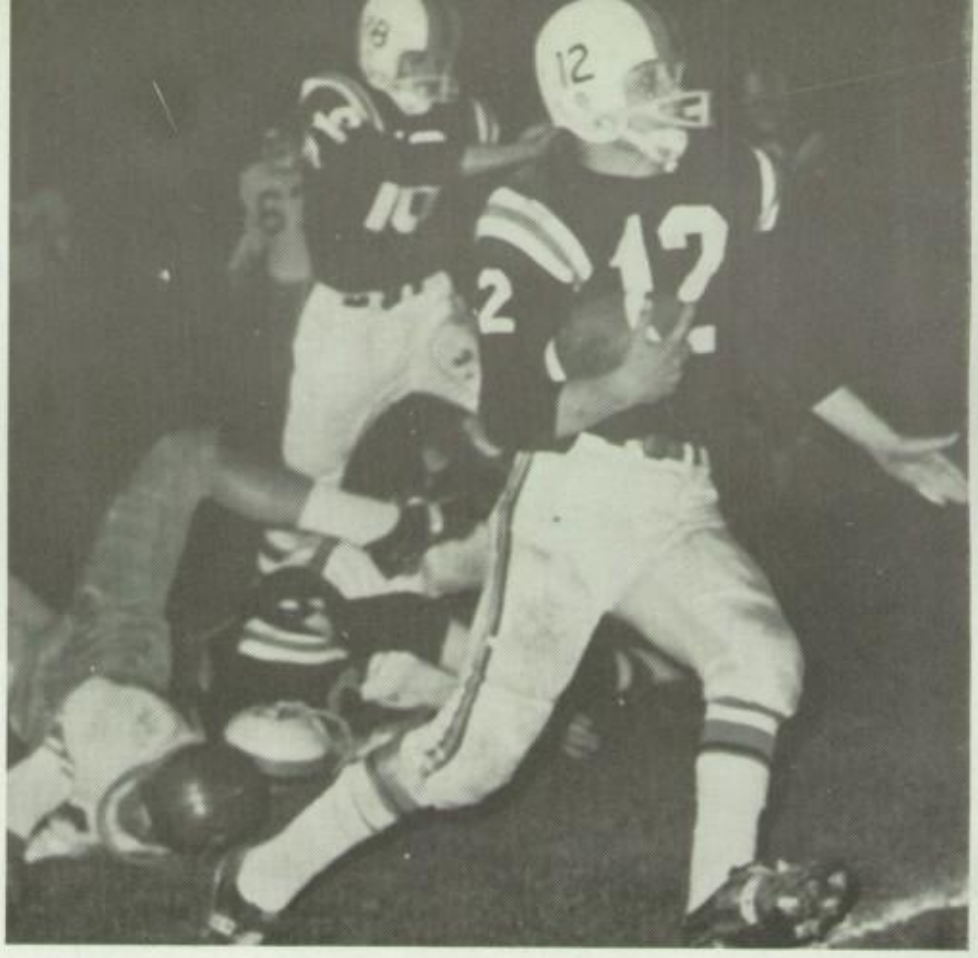
Wildcat morale remains high as co-captain Gary Brown breaks through a Pep Club victory portal before the second half of the Greeley-East game.

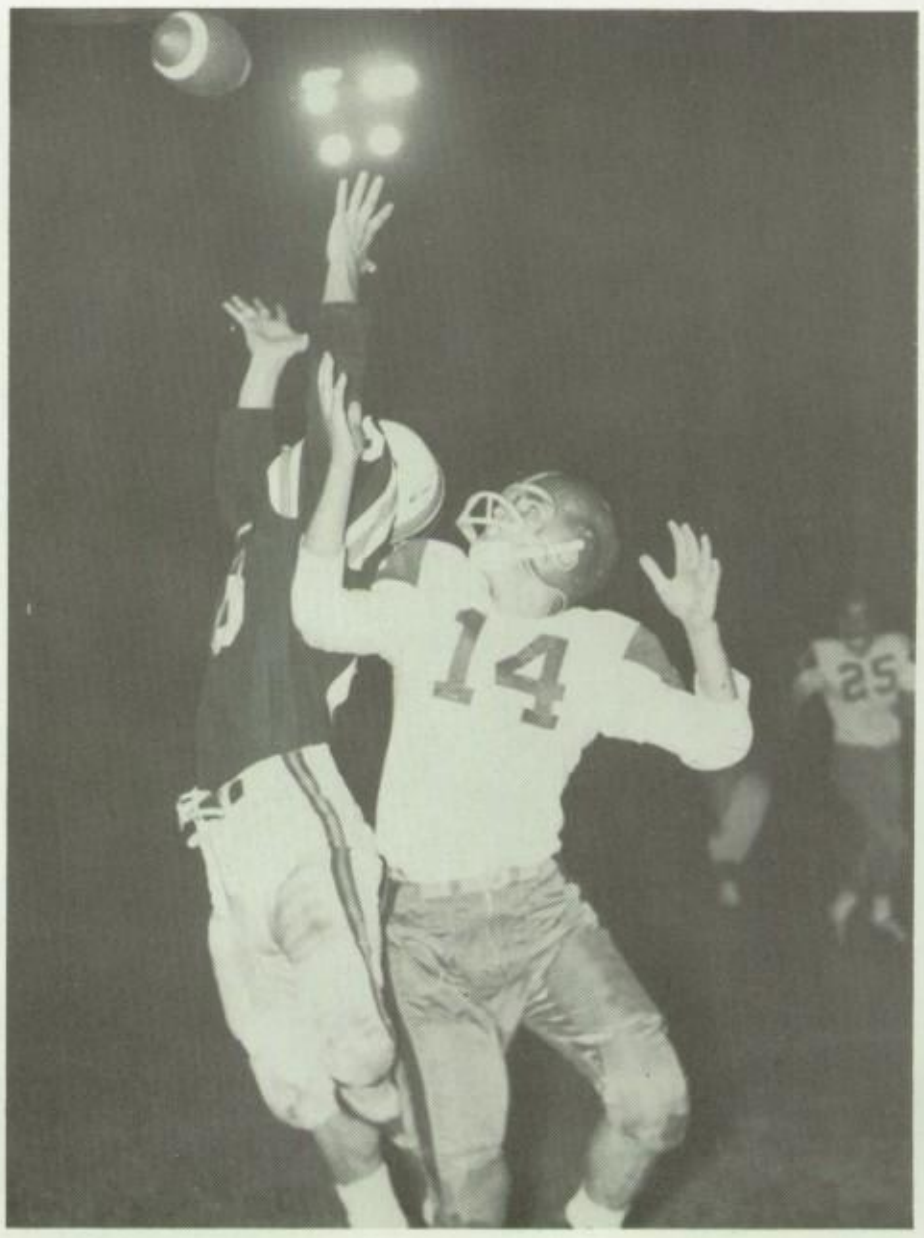


Dave Sefton, junior quarterback, breaks into the clear for a short gain against a tough East High team. East went on to win 57-0.

Final Games of Season

Wildcat Denny Stevens and a Boulder player vie for the football in the Greeley Homecoming game, which Boulder won 46-19.

Coach Pete D'Amato gives senior guard, John Brower, some of his famous, well-worded advice.



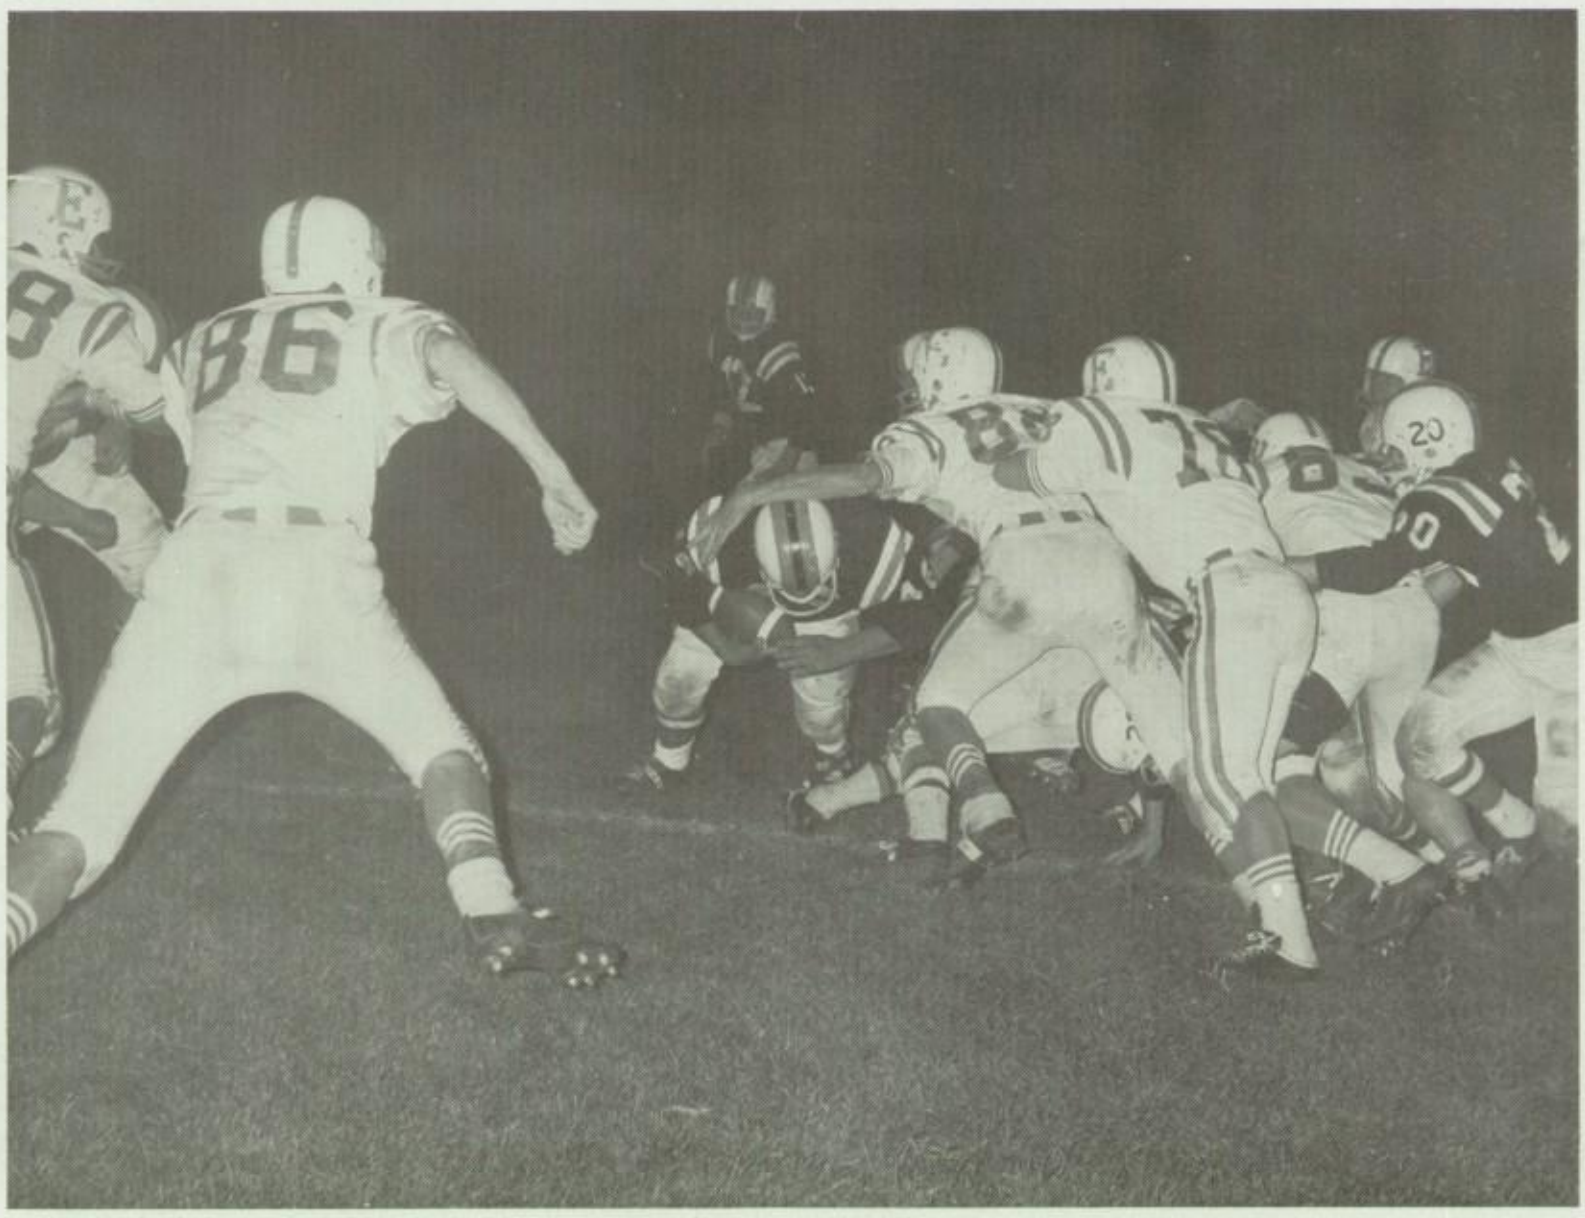
"HEY, FELLOWS . . . GET THAT BALL!" Junior cheerleader Pam McMillan runs the gammit of emotions at a G.H.S. football game.

"THAT'S THE SPIRIT, NOW LET'S SCORE!"

MAKE THAT KICK!"

Played at Jackson Field

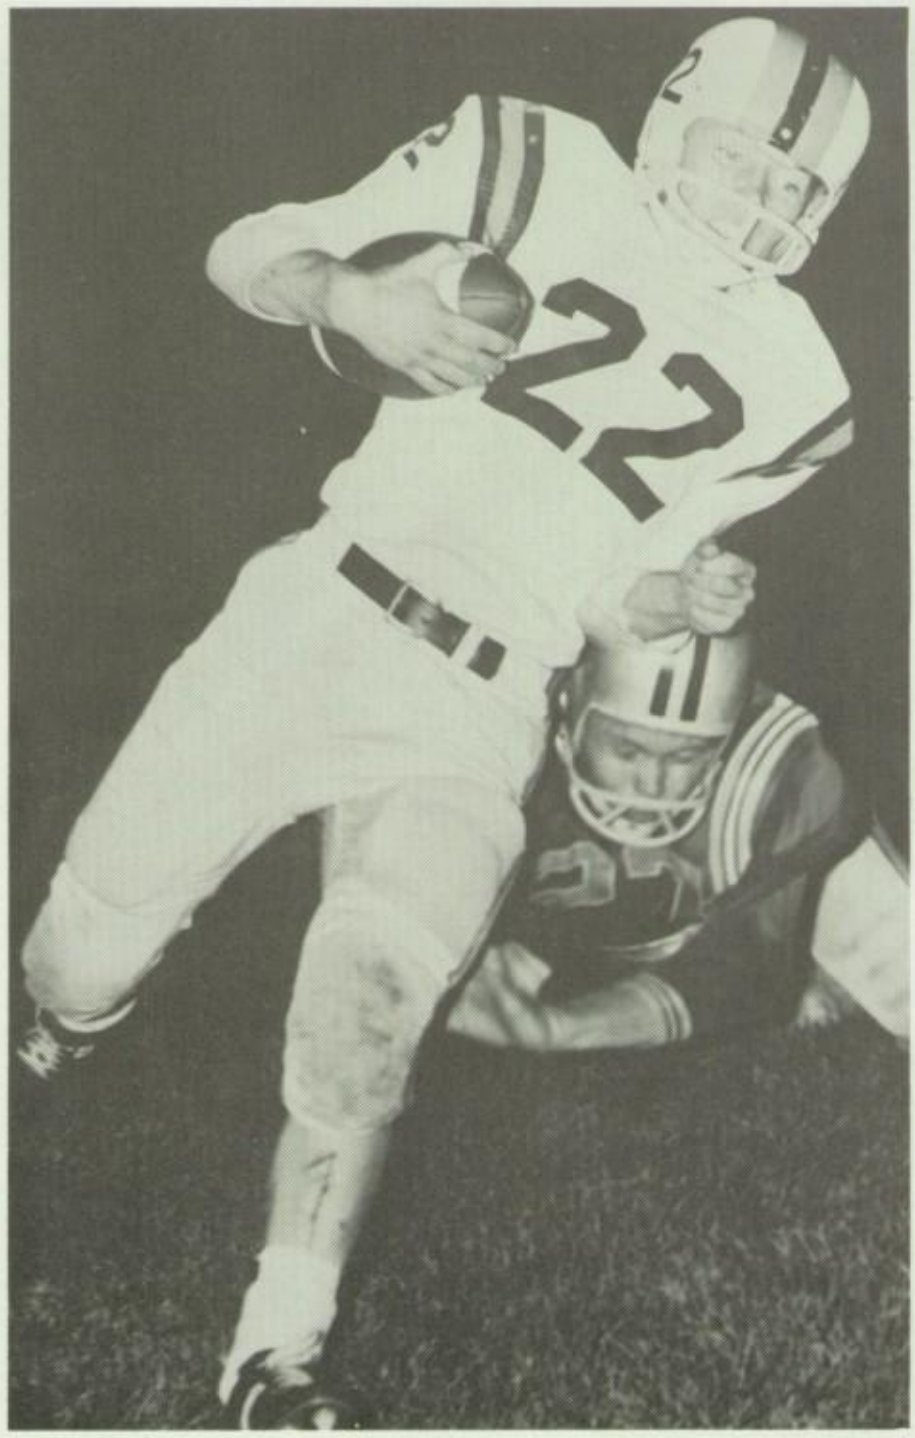
Greeley's hard-hitting line opens a big hole in the Englewood forward wall for fullback John Romero on a touchdown drive.



Cats Finish Fifth

Wildcat Jim Basey runs to help an unidentified teammate in the game against Fort Morgan. Greeley won the game 19-0.

Wildcat reserves discuss the outlook of the game with student manager, Danny Busch.



Greeley High's Larry Calvin breaks away from a Fort Collins Lambkin to gain yardage for the Wildcats. Fort Collins won the game 26-0.

Joe Stander eludes Englewood players and completes a pass to aid the Cats in their 21-14 victory.

in Conference

Three Greeley Wildcats join in the scramble for a fumble in the Greeley-Loveland game. Greeley Wildcat Nick Shepherd (38) was successful in recovering the ball for the Wildcats on the Loveland 38-yard-line. The Loveland Indians defeated the Wildcats 24-12 in the third Conference game of the season.

Cross Country Wins Conference

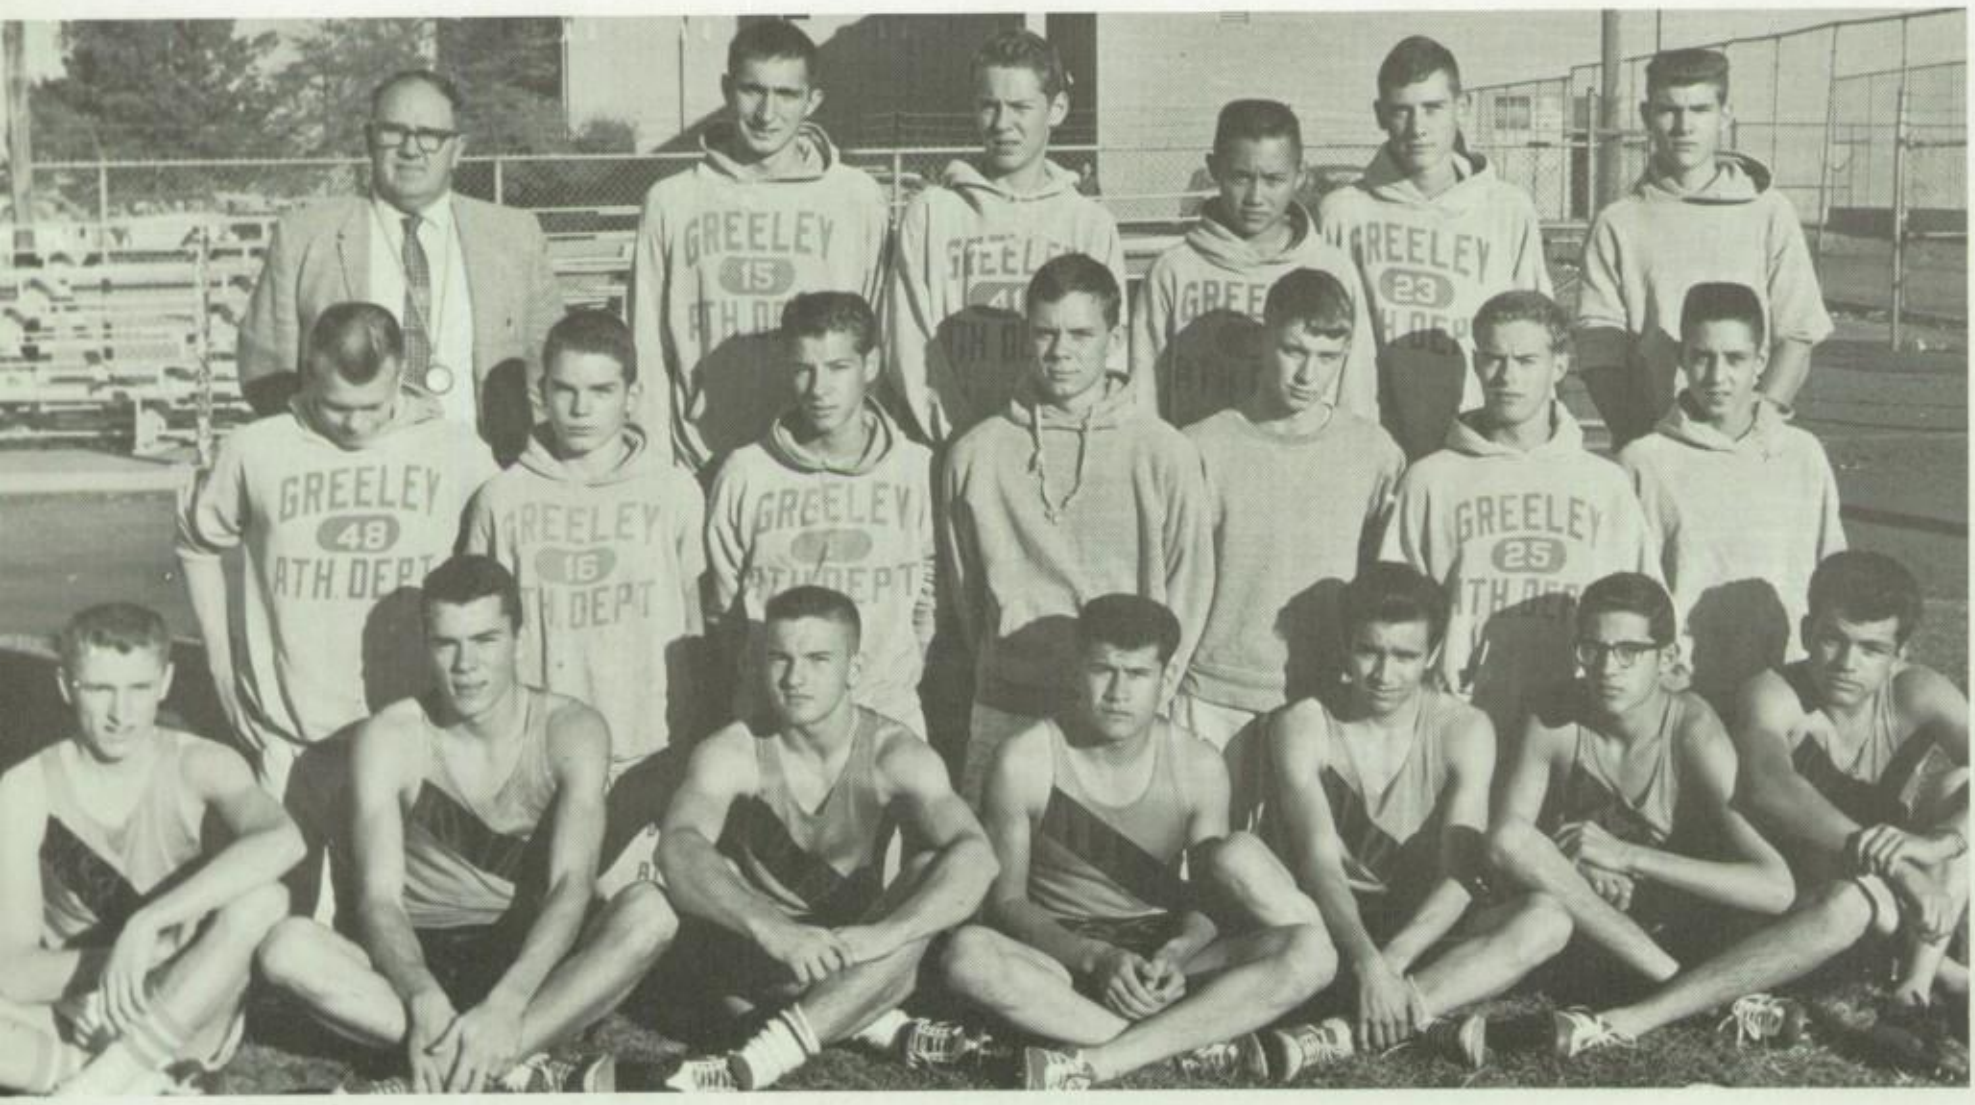
Frank Delgado, state champion, steps through a ditch enroute to his second consecutive state championship.

Greeley High's cross country team, sparked by two-time state champion Frank Delgado, soared to the Northern Conference Cross Country Co-championship.

The Cats placed high in all meets throughout the season, and took top honors at Sterling. Conference proved to be a successful meet as the team shared the championship with Aurora.

At State the Cats placed second, with Frank Delgado retaining the State Individual Championship for the second year.

State Champion Frank Delgado checks his time with Coach Springston.



1962 Cross Country Team

1962 VARSITY TENNIS SQUAD

Bruce and Dick to State

With only two returning lettermen, Greeley High's tennis team found the competition rough in the Northern Conference. Led by senior Dick Gladstone, the Cats gained victories over Sterling and Fort Morgan. Once again Greeley High was represented by a doubles team of Dick Gladstone and Bruce Robertson at the State High School Tennis Tournament.

1962 SCHEDULE

Greeley cagers started the 1962-63 basketball season by defeating two tough non-conference foes. Going into Northern Conference competition with high hopes, the inexperienced Cats met rough opposition. The high point of the season was the 45-43 upset over Conference Champ Englewood. Throughout the season the hustle, spirit and desire of the Wildcats made them a team to be proud of, and the play of the junior team members gave indication of good things to come.

Coach Jim Baggot shows dismay as the Wildcats suffer a setback.

As the Wildcat cagers take command of the game they receive enthusiastic support from the bench.

Vigor and vitality in the 1963 Kitten squad showed clearly in their record of 15 wins and 3 losses for the season. Members of the Junior Varsity squad were able to gain much experience by playing in many of the varsity games throughout the season. Under the watchful eye and direction of Coach Thompson, the Kittens showed the polish and ability of a potential championship team.

Closely guarded, forward Gus Miller manages a successful jump shot.

Despite a successful season, Coach Dale Thompson finds unpleasant moments in a close game.

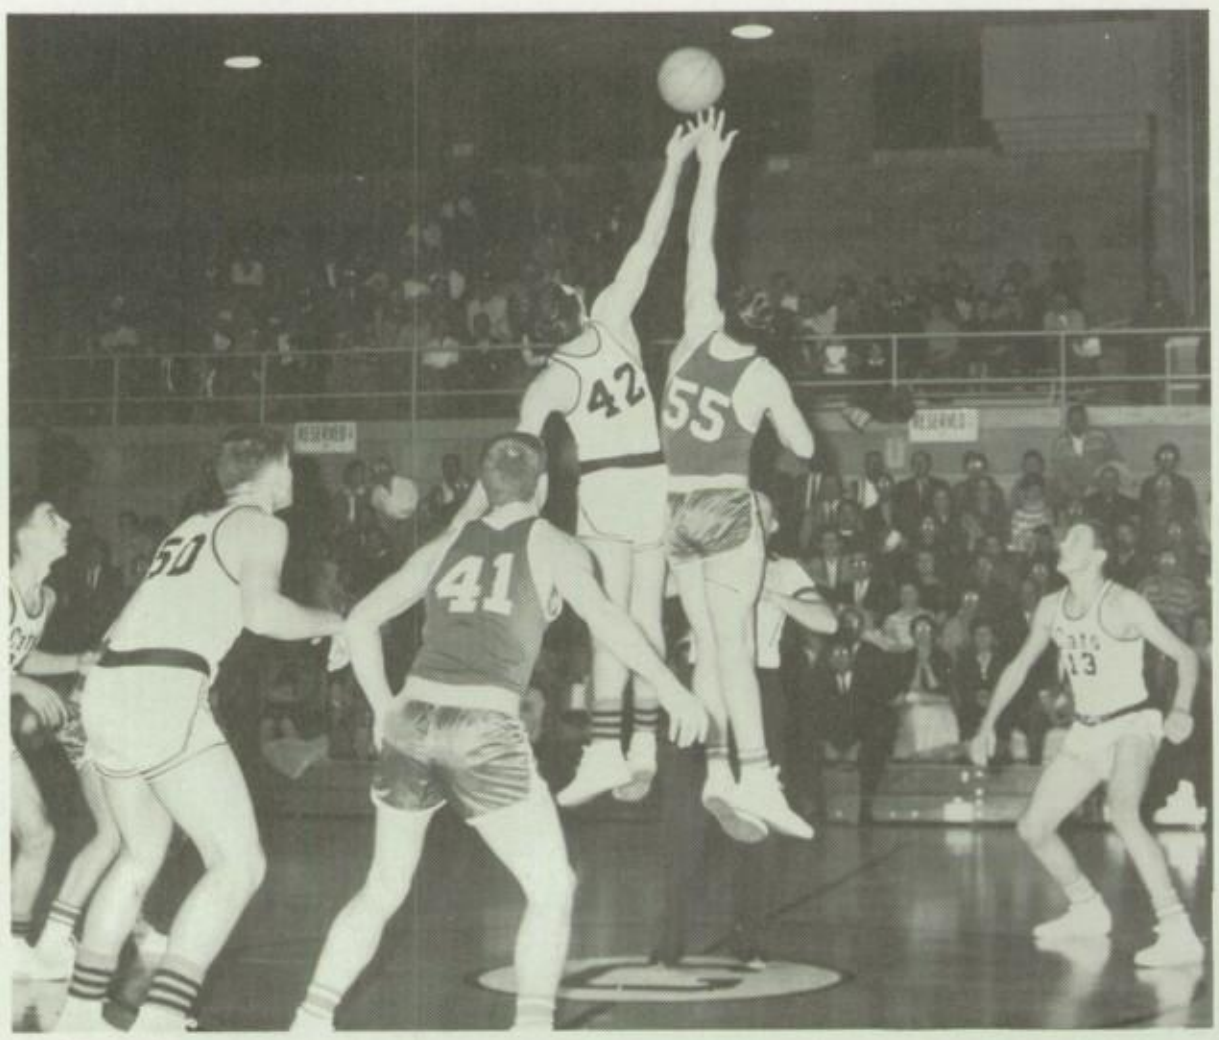
During a time-out, Coach Baggot finds equal time for criticism, advice and praise for his hard-fighting Wildcats.

Wildcat Daryl Brumley, well-guarded by a Sterling man, has difficulty in finding a teammate to pass the ball too.

Wildcat Cagers

Team manager Dan Busch has time to do his job, even while he is engrossed in the action on the floor.

In a Junior varsity game, Arlo Richardson watches as fellow-guard Dave Sefton attempts a short jump shot.



Anxious Wildcats watch as teammate Tom Doctor reaches for the ball in the starting tip-off.

Sophs Have Successful Year

Greeley High's sophomore basketball team climaxed a very successful season with a second-place finish in the Adams City Sophomore Basketball Tournament. In their encounter with Adams City they established a new tournament scoring record by piling up 76 points. Their 15-3 record for the season was indicative of their desire, ability, and competitive spirit. These boys will be a definite asset to next year's varsity and junior varsity teams.

1963 VARSITY WRESTLING SQUAD

Cats Send Four

Under the direction of Coach Don Gorman, Greeley High's 1963 wrestlers had a comparatively good season, finishing third in the Northern Conference standings with a 5-2-1 record. Four Wildcats qualified for state at the district wrestling meet. They were Mike Rogers, Frank Delgado, Don Miyoshi, and Albert Munoz. Delgado was defeated in the second round of the tournament by Dale Striker of Grand Junction, who went on to win the state championship in that division for the fourth consecutive year.

Greeley's sophomore Mike Rogers became the new ninety-five pound state champion after defeating all his opponents, including the defending state champion in that division. A 9-2 record for the junior varsity wrestlers gives a promising outlook for next year's wrestlers.

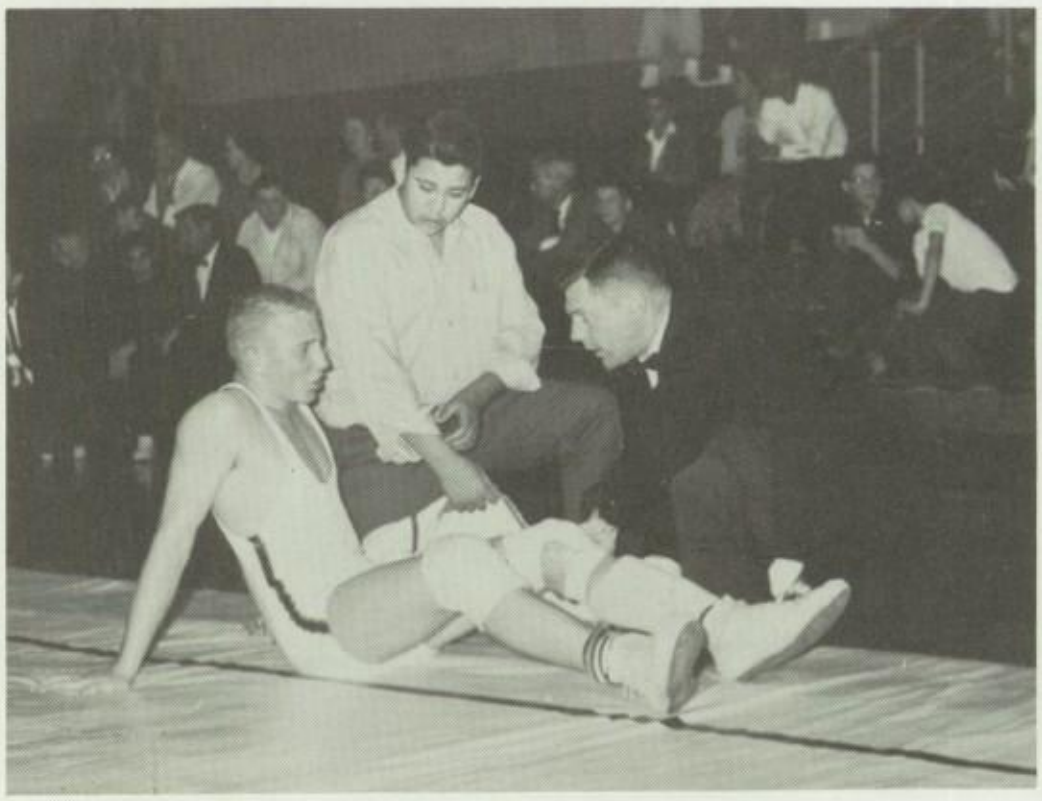
Wrestlers to State



During a time out called for an injured leg, Rick Nolan receives aid and advice from Coach Gorman and manager Abel Chavarria.

Junior cheerleaders Sandee Wishon and Shirley Booth give the wrestlers some enthusiastic support.

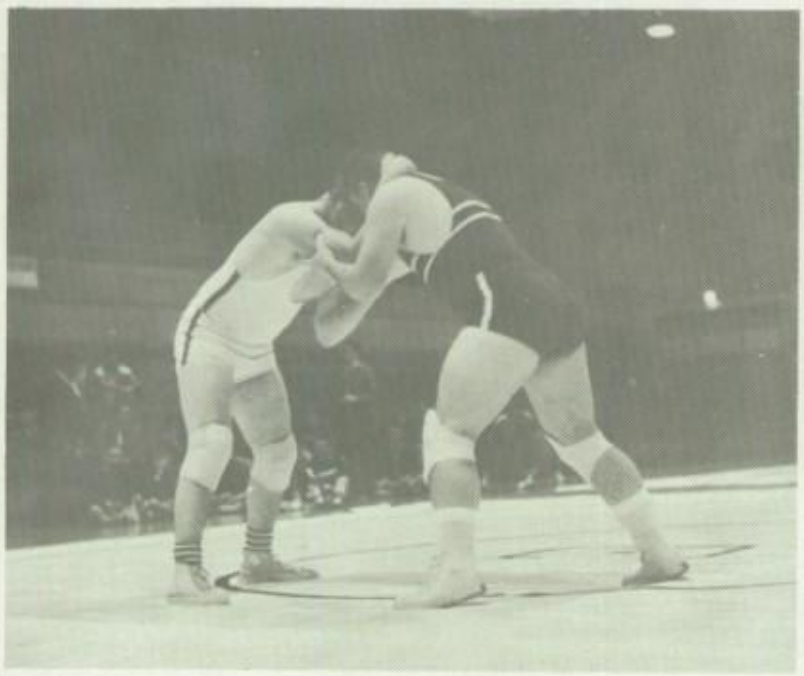
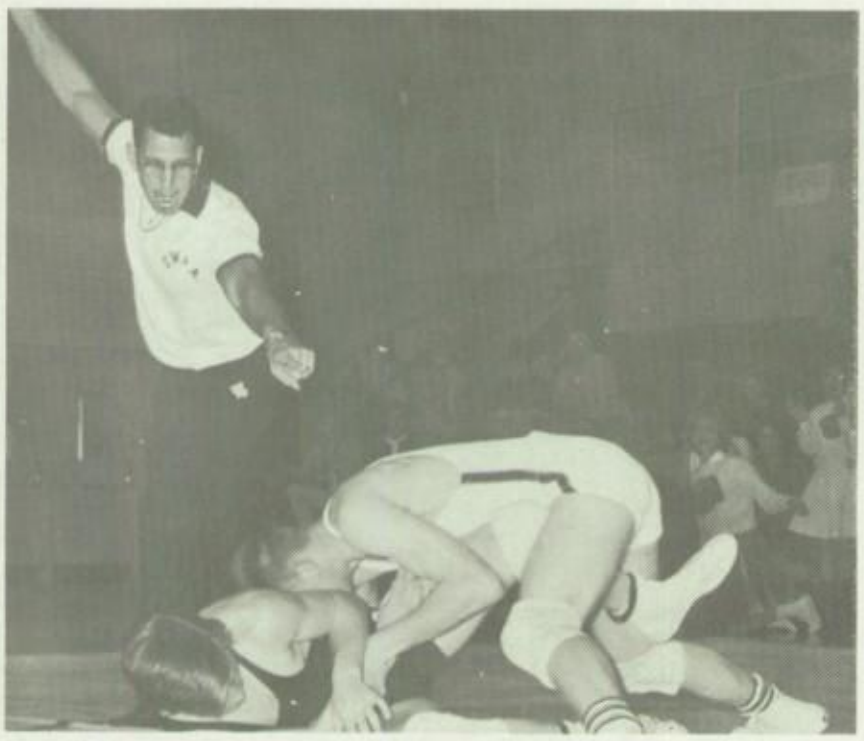
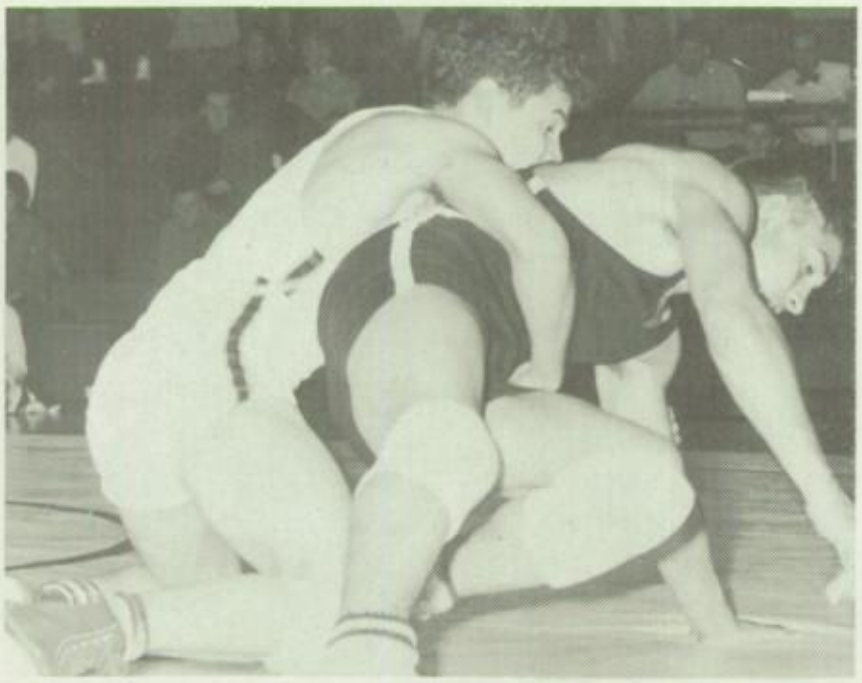
Rogers Wins 95-Pound

John Brower and his Aurora opponent vie in the heavyweight division.





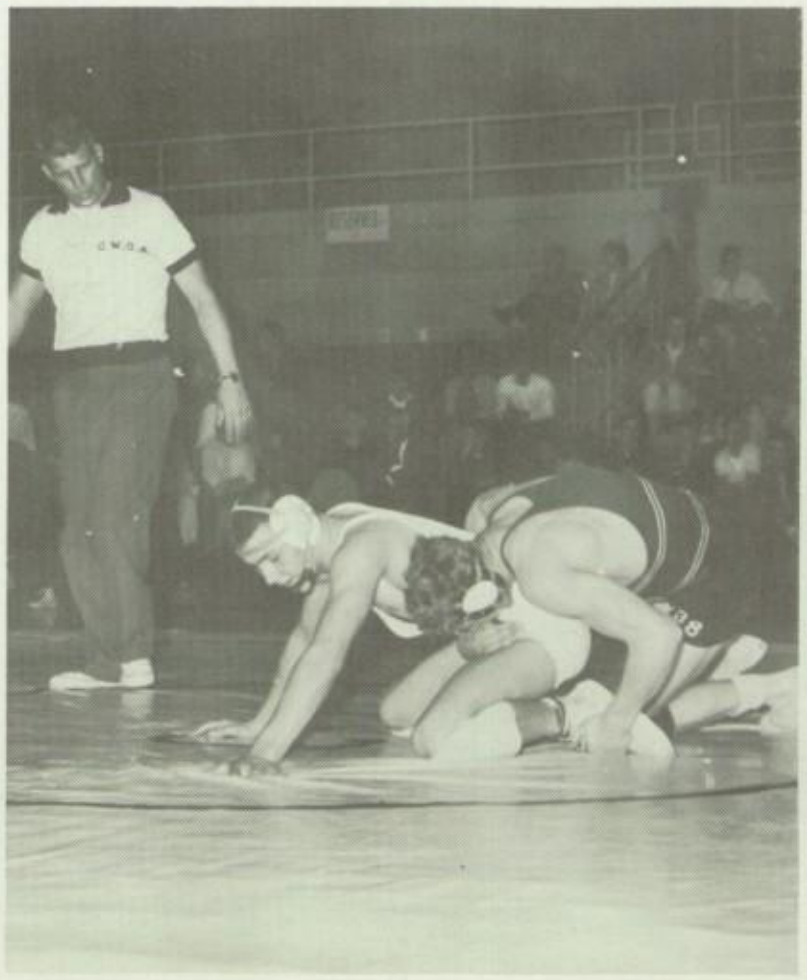
Bob Good gains points for a reversal in the second period of the Pueblo South match.



Wildcat Frank Delgado, having gained the advantage, works for a quick pin.

Alwyn Goertzen drives for a pin in the Pueblo South wrestling match.

In the 138-pound division, Bob Good and a Fort Morgan opponent start the second period.



State Championship

Mike Rogers is given a victory ride off the floor by teammate Frank Delgado and manager Abel Chavarria following his victory for the 95-pound state championship.

(Not pictured: LaVerne Walker)

A well-rounded 1962 varsity baseball squad compiled the best record set by the Wildcats in the past 14 years. They captured the Northern Conference crown with an 18 win, no loss, one tie record, and went on to participate in the AAA State Championship Playoffs. Here the Wildcats met tough competition against Wasson High School, who defeated them and put them out of the running.

This year's varsity squad is comprised mostly of juniors, and is depending upon them to carry the team to another Northern Conference title.

Wildcat Tom Baggot hits a liner into right field in the third inning of the game with Adams City. Greeley won the game 15-2.

A tense moment in the last inning of the Arvada game causes a look of concern on the faces of Wildcat coaches Pete D'Amato and Dale Thompson.

Greeley's 1962 Junior Varsity baseball squad ended their season with a 14-1 record. Although the JV's are not in a conference, they defeated all the conference teams that they played, with the high point of the season being their defeat of Brighton, who placed second in the Class A division. Outstanding players were: Richard Sorenson, Tom Wheeler, Daryl Brumley, and Jack Steele, sophomores, and Tom Doctor, junior.

This year's JV's are well on their way to equaling last year's record.

GHS Golfers Aim for Conference Title

This year's golf team, comprised of four seniors, three juniors, and one sophomore, has shown to be a promising one. In their first seven meets of the year the Wildcat golfers won five first places, and two second places. With five returning lettermen this year, Coach Gorman has hopes for a strong showing at the state golf tournament.

Not pictured: Randy Touslee, Ray Williams, and Roy Dilsaver.

Last year's track team sent three members to the state track meet. They were: Frank Delgado, Ray Delgado, and Tom Wormell. Ray Delgado set a new school record in the half-mile run, with a time of 2:01.4. Tom Wormell, GHS's top pole-vaulter, became state co-champion by vaulting 13 feet.

This year's team, under the direction of Coaches Jim Baggot and Clyde Guenther, has performed consistenly well despite their not so impressive record.

Senior Tom Wormall has a successful year with the Wildcats by making an unofficial vault of 13 ft. 3 inches. He also won first place in the pole-vault event in all the meets Greeley has competed in this year, with the exception of the Aurora Relays, in which there were 56 schools competing. Tom placed second in the vaulting event at Aurora.

Pole-vaulter Tom Wormell, state co-champion, easily clears the bar at 10 feet 9 inches to take first place in the pole-vault event in the Greeley-Longmont track meet.

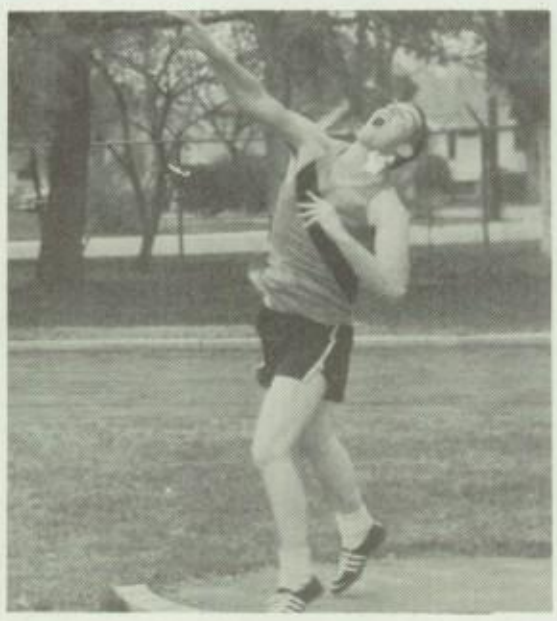
Wildcat Bob Fuller easily clears the hurdles and leads the field in the meet with Longmont.



Greeley's John Brower's mighty effort in the shot put netted him only a third place in the Greeley-Longmont track meet.

With a final burst of speed, Frank Delgado pulls far in front of the other runners to break the tape and add another victory for Greeley in the Longmont meet.

WILDCATS

Organizations

Organizations are an integral part of the lives of students at Greeley High School. They enable students to broaden their ideas and encourage them to participate more actively in a desired area. Thus they are better prepared to take part in community affairs as responsible citizens.

Enthusiastic Sophomores

Good-luck banners add color and life to hallways and aid school spirit at GHS.

Eager to receive their emblems and shakeroos, the new Pep Purrs anxiously wait in line at the annual sophomore reception.

All new members of Pep Club pledge to support athletics in both victory and defeat and to promote school spirit. In order to belong to this organization, a passing score on a test covering the club's constitution must be obtained. Wearing the proper uniform and attending all home games are other requirements of Pep Club members. Sophomores were received and officers and marching pins were given at a reception in January. At the reception, a skit was presented to illustrate the perfect Pep Purr. Every member worked hard this year to make Pep Club's traditional money making project, selling Christmas cards, a success.

Pep Club officers were Linda Brown, president; Mary Lee Omer, vice-president; Marsha Kelly, secretary; and Karel Stewart, treasurer.

1963 BANNER GIRLS

Janet Boyd, alternate. Luanne Larkins, Fort Collins; Janet Murphy, Sterling; Charlene Trembath, Loveland; Kaylene Garrison, Longmont; Ardyth Craig, Greeley; Pam Ruland, Aurora; Susie Shafer, Boulder; Karel King, Englewood; Val Ranne, Fort Morgan; Bonnie Weber, alternate.

Banner Girls Perform for Broncos

Nine girls and two alternates are chosen as banner girls when tryouts are held each spring. Head banner girl Ardy Craig led the squad this year. Each girl carries a flag representing a school in the Northern Conference. They perform at the halftime ceremonies of football games as a part of the band, and they participate in the pre-game flag ceremonies at basketball games. Highlighting the year for the girls was the opportunity to march with the band at the Denver Broncos football game on Thanksgiving Day.

Forming a "V" for victory, the banner girls stand at attention during the opening flag ceremony.

After strenuous tryouts last April, this year's GHS Pom Pon girls began an exciting early season with new uniforms. Summer was spent in preparation for the year's events which consisted of parades, pre-game and halftime entertainment during basketball season. Highlighting this year's activities was an appearance on nation-wide television with the GHS marching band who provided the half-time show at the Denver Broncos-New York Titan football game.

Last minute adjustments are necessary before the start of the homecoming parade.

Cheerleaders Amplify Spirit

Arousing school spirit at GHS are its alert and agile cheerleaders: Rodnie Wilkinson, Joyce Stencel, Sandee Wishon, Janet Spear, Pam McMillan, head cheerleader Sharon Downing, Shirley Booth, and Kathy Jones.

Cheerleaders seem to be indefatigable in their efforts to kindle the enthusiasm of sports fans.

Each spring the entire student body elects four girls to be senior cheerleaders for the next year. One of them is selected to be head cheerleader. At the same time four juniors are chosen to compose the rest of the squad. During basketball and wrestling season, the girls divide their responsibilities, thus making it possible to have representatives at all athletic events. Cheerleaders have a big influence on school spirit. This means they must spend a lot of time practicing regularly during the summer as well as during the school year. Before all conference basketball games, cheerleaders from both schools give the Success cheer. This is a practice designed to promote good will among the various sudent bodies.

Leading Greeley and Loveland students in the success cheer, cheerleaders promote fellowship and good will between schools.

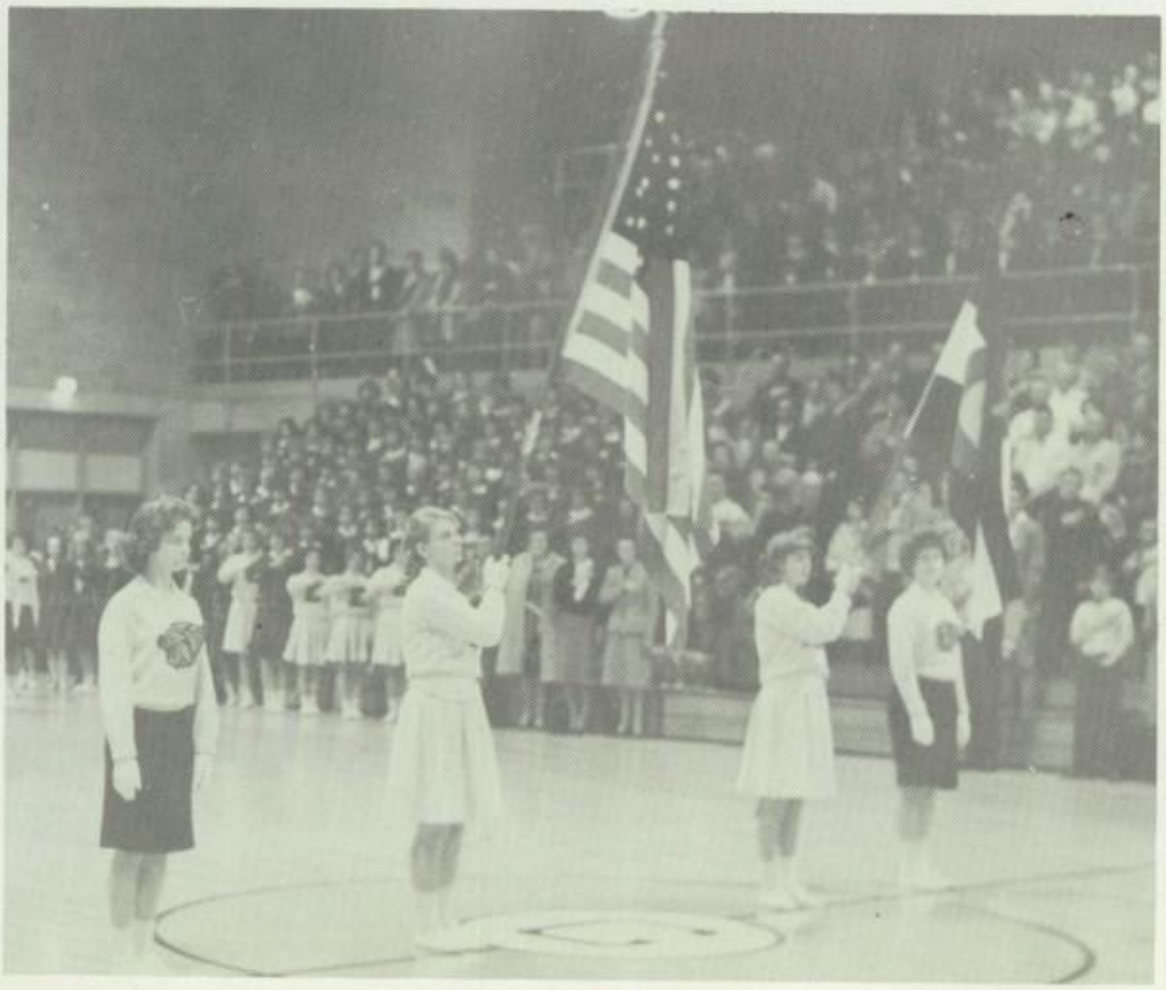
Marching Squad Sets Brisk Pace

Drill leader Sonjenne Carlson and assistant drill leader Kathy Ewing, flanked by two marching squad members, stand at attention during the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner."



After practicing for one week in the fall, forty girls and eight alternates were chosen to compose the Pep Club Marching Squad. Representating Greeley High impressively, they proudly wore their pep club uniforms at the front of the Homecoming parade. During football season the entire squad took part in the pre-game ceremonies. Two squad members and the two drill leaders presented the flag before home basketball games.

Language Clubs Promote

Skiing requires a lot of awkward paraphernalia, and these German Club members seem to have trouble carrying theirs.

Hey, Jud! Carol and Mary Lee can't hold you up all the way down the slope!"

Among the activities of German Club was a trip to Denver to see The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm at Cinerama. Lunch was eaten at Celebrity Lanes and the afternoon was spent swimming and bowling. A mountain outing in May was the final activity of the year. Spaghetti, singing, recreation, and the honoring of outstanding students were the main items on the agenda.

At the Spanish Club Christmas celebration a film on Christmas customs around the world was shown. The party opened with a Spanish dinner and closed with the eating of the twelve grapes of good fortune, an old New Year's Eve custom practiced in the cities of Spain. In February, the group took two buses to Denver to see Jose Greco and his Spanish dancers. Dinner was eaten at a Mexican restaurant. At a spring picnic the outstanding members were honored and next year's officers were introduced.

Linda Brown missed the pinata, but maybe the next person will hit it. When it breaks everyone will scramble for the candy scattered on the floor.

Diane Mendoza, Karel King, and Mary Jane Leal hope to get the first pieces of Christmas cake after Ann Brochtrup cuts it.

Communication and Culture

French Club members, dressed in Roaring 20's style, find riding on ancient cars an interesting diversion.

French Club was organized to acquaint its members with the culture of France and to provide recreational activities. In celebrating Christmas, French Club members had a get-together at the Greeley National Bank Annex. Those attending enjoyed music, refreshments and friendly conversation.

Sponsor Miss Dilworth worked with the officers in planning activities. Officers were: president, Bob Runnells; vice-president, Lillis Waldo; secretary, Mary Lynn Hegg; and treasurer, Merry Johansen.

In December Latin Club spent a day in Denver visiting Cinerama and Celebrity Lanes. Latin Club members, in style of modern day Romans, enjoyed a meal of punch, lasagna and Boston cream pie at a Banquet held early in April. First year Latin students from Heath and Meeker were invited to hold the positions of slaves to the high school students. Since the state convention of Latin Club was held at College High School in Greeley, most of the members at GHS attended.

Latin Club officers were: president, Judy Shelton; vice-president, Joel Rothman, and secretary-treasurer, Linda Andre. Sponsor Mrs. Glidden, has worked hard to make all Latin Club activities a success.

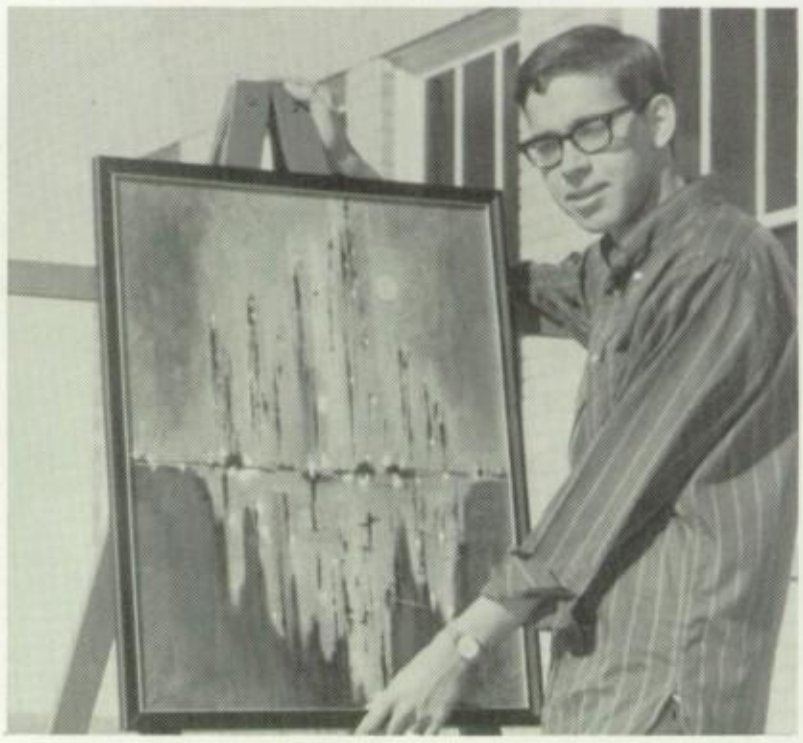
Art Club Recognizes Students Work

In addition to the increase in membership of Art Club this year, its activities have also increased. Decorations for the homecoming dance and lunchroom at Christmas time were done by the club. Displays of art work produced by students in the art classes were posted in the study halls, teachers' lounge and lunchroom throughout the year. As a money-making project the club sponsored the selection of Miss GHS and the production of the calendar. A trip to Denver for both members and non-members was the highlight of the year. The Denver Metropolitan Art Museum, the Oriental Art Museum and the Own-Our-Own Show were visited along with interior design shops and Cinerama. Outstanding Art Club members elected by the club were honored and received pins at a spring banquet.

This year's Art Club officers were: president, Karen Brink; vice-president, Joe Dirnberger and secretary-treasurer, Jim Wickland.



Joe Dirnberger, vice-president of Art Club, displays his oil painting, "City by the sea," which won best overall painting at the State Women's Federation contest.

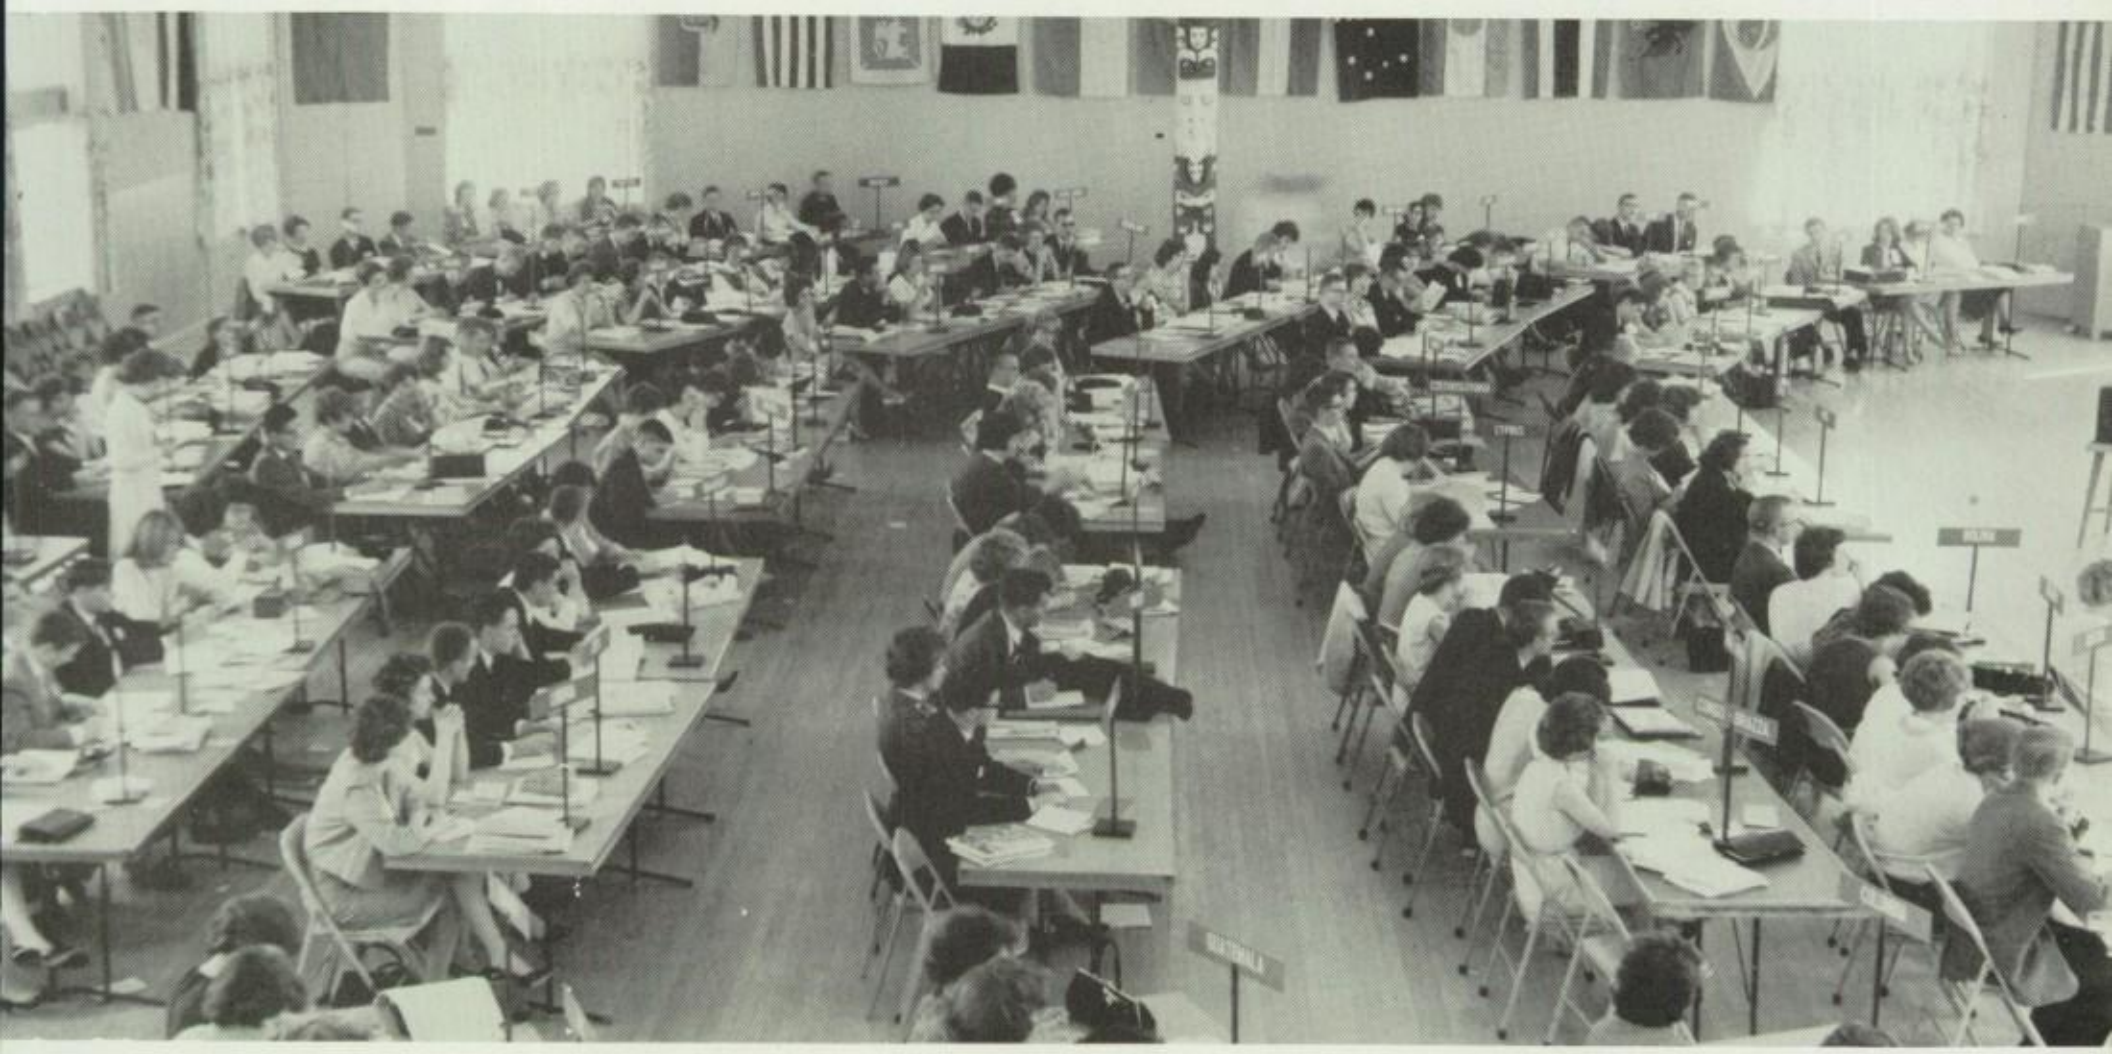
Interest in World Affairs Shown



Delegates to the Model United Nations listen as a representative speaks for his country.

Students who are interested in the major issues of the world have several opportunities to express their opinions through International Relations Club. Early in the year, delegates attended the International Relations Conference at Denver University for a two-day program on the United Nations.

Then members participated in the Model United Nations at Colorado State College in March where they represented different countries of the world. Each delegate defended the rights and views of the country he was representing.

The officers of IRC Club this year were president, Cindy Telep; vice president, Ollie Kerr; secretary, Jane Elmblade; and treasurer, Janet Floyd.

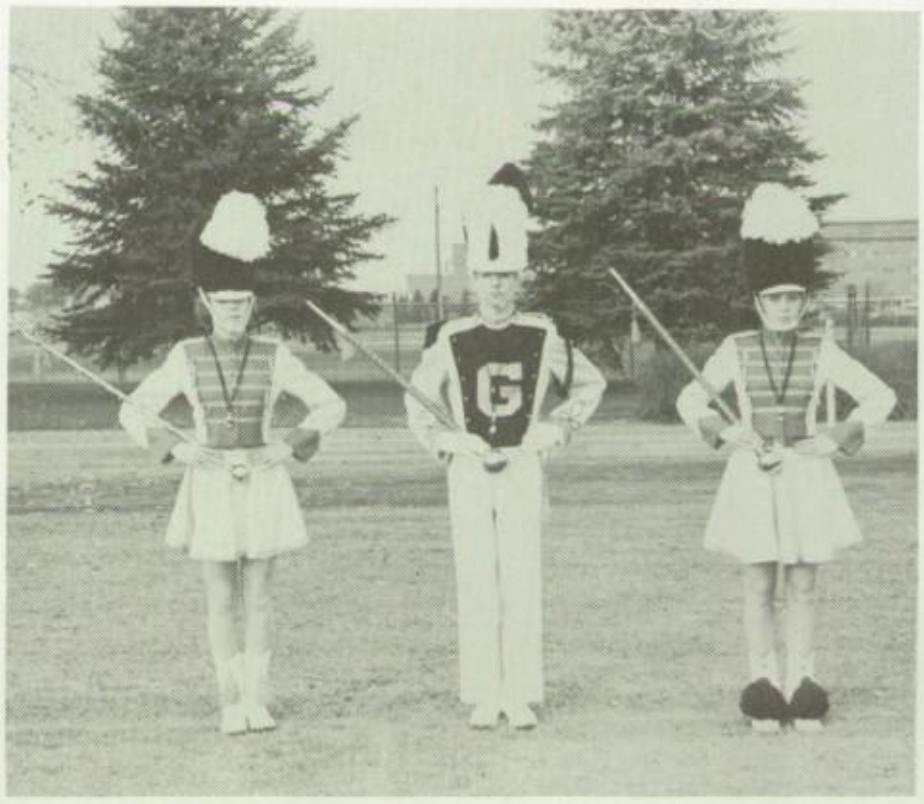
For the third consecutive year the Concert Band performance featured a guest artist. Playing numerous musical instruments, Bill Page, a performer with the Lawrence Welk Band, provided the solos this year.

Another project of Concert Band this year was the spring concert and the All-State Band Contest held this year at Greeley High School.

Leading the marching band throughout the football season were the drum majors and majorettes. After praticing long hours, they are later chosen through tryouts.



Leading the band through many successful performances were the three senior drum majors: Kathy Porter, Chuck Andre, and Pat Kester.

Music Department Well Represented at State

Greeley High Marching Band performed during half-time ceremonies, and traveled to games away from home in support of the team. This year the band was invited to play during the half-time ceremonies of the Denver Brocos Thanksgiving Day game. After participating in the annual band day at the University of Colorado, the Greeley High School band brought home a superior rating. They showed their marching ability by participating in the Greeley High and Colorado State College Homecoming Parades. Six members of this year's band were sent to the All-State Band.

Pep Band helped to promote school spirit by playing at Greeley High basketball games and pep assemblies. This year more students were chosen as band members. All members of the band were chosen through tryouts.

Among the activities of the Greeley High School orchestra was providing the music for the all school musical, South Pacific. This year the orchestra competed in the All-State Orchestra competition and sent five members to All-State Orchestra held at the University of Colorado.

Music Department Provides

Functioning for the past two years, the girls sextet and madrigal choir received superior ratings at a contest in Loveland. Singing for many organizations, the girls sextet has been well received. In vocalizing for its own pleasure, the madrigal choir has received distinction by being chosen as a demonstration group for Colorado State College.

This year Advanced and Modern Choirs worked hard and quickly to present one of their earliest fall concerts to be given by most school choirs. They later gave a winter concert in which the Girls Glee Club also participated. In addition to these programs, Modern Choir sang for the Girls' Association White Christmas program and for different organizations throughout the state. Advanced and Modern Choirs also took part in the all State Choir Festival at Colorado State College.

Fifty One Juniors and Seniors

During spring vacation, fifty-one students and four sponsors took the annual educational tour back East. On the trip, the group visited the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, several monuments and government buildings in Washington, D.C., and Independence Hall in Philadelphia. Historical Williamsburg proved to be an experience for the group when most of the students saw it for the first time. Also included in the exciting tour was a Broadway musical, Mr. President, a visit to Radio City Music Hall, and a trip to the Statue of Liberty in New York City.

Sponsors for the 1963 Educational Tour were Mr. and Mrs. Abbott and Mr. and Mrs. Sandstedt. All those who made the trip will not soon forget the wonderful time they had.

Newspaper Requires Teamwork

Checking the final copy is only one of the many jobs performed by editor Sandy Kolacny and sponsor Mr. Fred Koteskey.

Typist Val Osborne prepares the copy for printing.

Publishing the school newspaper requires many steps and several students working together as a team. Before anything else can be done, information must be gathered and the copy must be written. Then the photographers must take pictures which are appropriate for the various articles. Setting up the type is a difficult process because the line length must be determined before the articles are typed in column form. After the final copy has been retyped and the corrections have been made, the final draft is arranged. The last proofreading assures the staff that the paper is ready to be printed. All this work must be done before the paper is delieverd to the students.

Mimi Stockover, Val Osborne, and Shirley Perry find that writing articles takes time, work, cleverness, imagination, wit, and humor.

In addition to their regular jobs, sports editor Don Benjamin and news editor Lorrie Boos correct the typing errors before the paste-up is sent to the printer.

Arranging and pasting the final draft are Mr. Fred Koteskey, feature editor Janet McWilliams, and production coordinator Del Miller.

Development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship is the main purpose of the Future Farmers of America. In carrying out this theme, the Greeley High School chapter of this organization has participated in various livestock shows and rodeos. Some of these include the Kersey Livestock Show, the Weld County and State fairs, and the State FFA Convention. The most important activity of the year was the rodeo sponsored by the club. Top hand at this year's rodeo was Bill Peterson, who was president. Also among the FFA activities was a roller-skating party with the Eaton and Greeley FFA chapters participating.

Chairman of the FFA roller-skating party, Russell Baxley and his date, Karen Beveridge, seem to enjoy themselves while skating.

GAA Offers Intramurals

Girls Athletic Association's main purpose is to provide competitive intramural sports for interested girls. There were four team sports, one each quarter, which were flag football, volleyball, basketball, and softball. Individual sports were table tennis, tennis, bowling, gymnastics, badminton, and golf. GAA took part in play days for volleyball at Boulder, basketball at Fort Collins, and softball at Longmont. These teams were picked from the various intramural teams.

Holding a welcome party, initiating new members, sponsoring the homecoming parade, sponsoring a coffee for parents and members of the football team on Parents' Night, sponsoring the Sox Stomp, the theme of which was Willy's Woodsie, and selling sweatshirts for a money-making project included the activities of GAA.

Marsha Miller, Pat Kester, and Karel Stewart do some last minute stuffing of napkins for the Sox Stomp decorations.

NFL Experiences Successful Year

Susan Kula and Patty Piper give announcements on Radio Day under the direction of a KYOU employee.

National Forensic League's main purpose is to further develop leadership qualities and speaking ability through various types of speech competition. Under the able guidance of Mrs. Hipkins, NFL was able to represent Greeley High in many speech meets held throughout the state of Colorado. Joyce Vaughn, Pat Kline, Jan Forman, and Bruce Prowell received superior ratings at the state meet.

One of the most unique money-making projects of the clubs at Greeley High is the Radio Day sponsored by NFL at KYOU, a Greeley radio station. Members took over the station for one day, selling advertisement spots to various businesses, writing the advertisements, and billing the customers. Officers of NFL were president, Joyce Vaughn; vice president, Paul Efken: secretary, Terry Turner; treasurer, Tom Jones; and historian, Pat Kline.

This year Joyce Vaughn, Pat Kline, Jan Forman, and Bruce Prowell represent Greeley High as state speech champions.

Mrs. Hipkins discusses the results of the Denver University speech meet with the Greeley participants.

Chess Club met once every two weeks in the high school library. Assigned games were played first; then, if there was time, members challenged other players. At the end of the evening, the person who earned the most points won a traveling trophy which he kept until the next meeting. Chess Club officers were president, Denny Irvine; vice president, Dave Hyslop; secretary, Joan VerLinden; statistician, Merry Johansen. Chess Club sponsor was Mr. Koteskey.

Tim Baab casually reminds Dick Gladstone that he's in a check and has to move his king. Merry Johansen, Denny Irvine, and Joan VerLinden quietly watch to see how these two top-notch players work out the move.

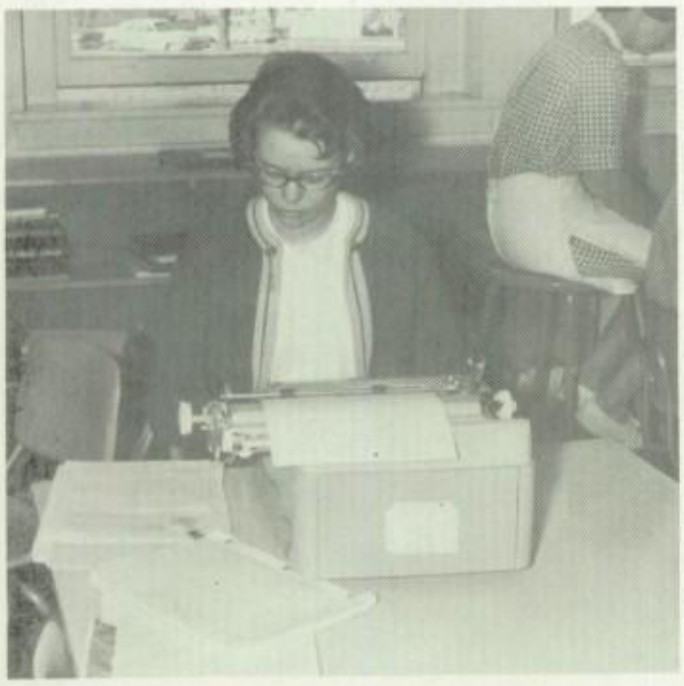
Producing Yearbook

Through the combined efforts of seventeen GHS students, this year's annual was made bigger and better for the enjoyment of the student body. In trying to make the best possible annual, the Spud Staff spent long, hard hours of searching through publication books, thinking of ideas, and working out new and different layouts. Finally the staff arrived at the design for the cover and the contents.

To raise extra money for equipment and the improvement of the book, the Spud Staff sold class pictures and plastic book covers.

Being editor-in-chief and copy editor of the Spud, Anne Accola checks and makes changes on all pages before they are turned in to the Tribune.

Thinking of clever and original ideas for captions requires both an active imagination and a command of the English language. Lillian Sanders and Margaret Spitzer collaborate on the writing of copy while Karen Floyd struggles by herself.



Joyce Boehner concentrates on her typing to meet one of the many deadlines always arriving too soon.

Preparing pages for the copywriters, Margaret Keyes and Pat Kroger cut pictures to size and then glue them on the pages.

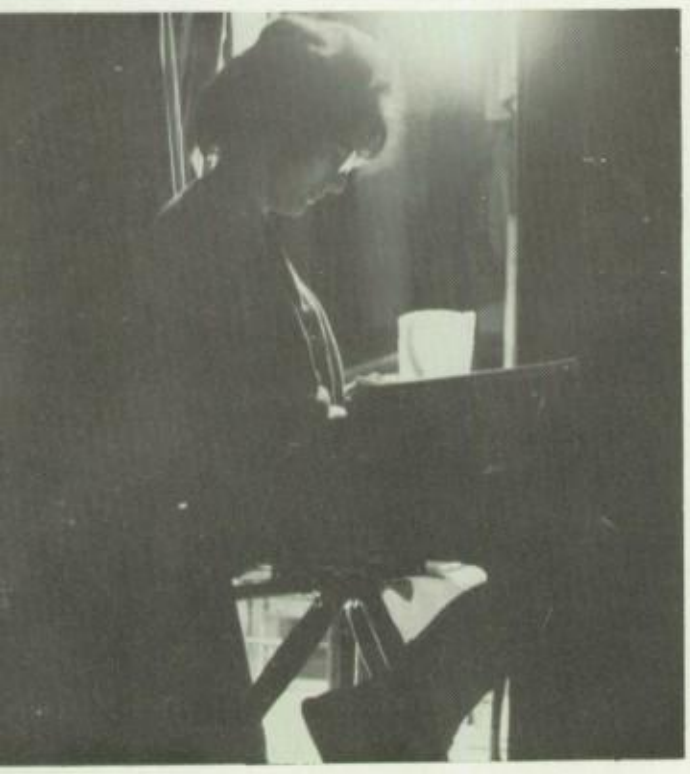
Thespians Produce Comedy "Charley's Aunt"



"I wish they'd learn their lines."

"Charley's Aunt," a Victorian era play written by Brandon Thomas, was presented by Thespians under the direction of Ruth Kline and technical direction of John Girault.

College life in 1890 is depicted in the play. When Lord Fancourt Babberly impersonates Charley's aunt, the humor evolves. Highlighting the performance, musical numbers, done in the style of the Victorian era, were presented by members of the cast between acts.

"Two girls, and me in this outfit!"

Tragedy Presented at GHS

As a result of the Capulet-Montague feud, Tybolt challenges Romeo to a duel. Romeo refuses to fight Tybolt because he has just married Juliet, Tybolt's cousin.

Lady Capulet mourns the death of Juliet who has taken a sleeping potion to make it appear that she is dead so she may be sent to join Romeo in exile.

GHS Thespians presented the tragedy of Romeo and Juliet for their third and last production this year. Judy Debban and Bob Shwayder, who played the leads, were exceptional and gave their best performances in the death scenes. Other characterizations were portrayed well and added to the overall excellence of the production.

All of the costumes for the play were made by Mrs. Ruth Kline from old costumes, drapes, and odd bits of material found in the costume room. Settings and lighting effects were achieved through the efforts of Mr. John Girault and his capable crew. Mrs. Kline directed the cast members in their long hours of practice.

Juliet sorrowfully stares into space upon learning that her husband, Romeo, has just killed Tybolt and has been banished from England.

Lady Capulet and the townspeople bewail the death of Tybolt whom Romeo has just killed. The prince orders that the feud between the Capulets and Montagues cease and banishes Romeo from England.

Once more the genius and talent of Rodgers and Hammerstein was brought to the Greeley High stage with the presentation of "South Pacific" on February 2, 5, and 7. Under the excellent direction of J. Stevens Girault, the show proceeded with the smoothness and polish of professionals. The background projections, beautifully drawn by Gary Sallee, did much to carry on the mood of the show.

The female lead of Ensign Nellie Forbush, a "little hick from Arkansas," was given to three girls—Janet Murphy, Janet Boyd, and Terry Turner. Each girl starred one night, and all three were outstanding in their performances.

Bob Shwayder, as the Frenchman Emile de Beque, gave an excellent and convincing performance all three nights. Alan Mosteller, as the brash, but thoughtful Luther Billis, was riotous in his portrayal, and a favorite of the audience. Darrell Heil as Lt. Joseph Cable, and Joyce Shupe as Bloody Mary both gave outstanding and believable performances.

The music of Mr. Roscoe Booth's Symphonette Orchestra, the wonderful costumes of Mrs. Ruth Kline, the excellent choreography of Pat Kline, and the vocal direction of Mr. Curtis Sprenger upheld the high standard of excellence which prevailed throughout the entire production.

Janet Murphy as Nellie Forbush gives a lively boost to Luther Billis in the riotous "Honey Bun" dance.

Senior Council members, including Kathy Porter and Frank Delgado shown here, ushered at the Tuesday night performance of "South Pacific." Members of the Junior and Sophomore councils ushered the other two nights.

In a tense and tragic scene, Janet Boyd, as Nellie Forbush, tells Bloody Mary and her daughter Liat that Liat's lover, Joe Cable, is dead.

In a tender scene Joe Cable professes his love for Liat in the song "Younger Than Springtime."

Commander Harbison and Luther Billis discuss one of Luther's many projects, while Luther's friends give him moral support.

In the opening scene of the musical, Nellie Forbush, enacted by Terry Turner, and Emile de Beque realize their love for each other.

Crossing the stage to receive his colorful FTA pin from president Cheryl Layton and treasurer Dan Busch is Stan Krosky, a new member this year.

FTA members enjoy a delicious meal at the Camfield Hotel as they celebrate the national organization's twenty-fifth anniversary.

Joyner Chosen State FTA President

To acquaint its members with various aspects of the teaching profession, Future Teachers of America presented programs in which members participated as panelists and planners. FTA's float won first place in the Homecoming parade. At the November initiation, the inspiring candlelighting ceremony impressed new members with its significance.

At a banquet in January commemorating the founding of the club twenty-five years ago, Dr. Kelly entertained members with a speech entitled Portrait of a teacher. Among the honored guests were Superintendent of Schools Dr. Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, members of the counseling staff at Heath, Meeker, and GHS, and the FTA sponsor at College High School.

Seventeen members and two sponsors traveled to Colorado Springs early in April to participate in an all-day convention at Palmer High School. After hearing an excellent talk by Dr. John Bothell and brief campaign speeches by the candidates for offices, delegates attended interest discussion groups. The election of Dawson Joyner as president of the state organization provided a perfect ending to an extremely tiring day.

Revenue for all of FTA's various activities came from the sale of mums for the Homecoming dance and Greeley buttons. Serving the entire school, the FTA bookstore makes many paperback books available to students who want their own copies of books.

FTA officers for this year were president, Cheryl Layton; vice president, Dale Scholfield; secretary, Sandie Etherton; and treasurer, Dan Busch.

Dr. Grimes, one of several honored guests, converses with Mrs. Grace Dawson as he awaits his dessert.

A program treating controversial issues in the classroom, presented in panel form by members of the club, proves to be an interesting and lively topic for discussion.

FTA's winning float, in keeping with the Roaring 20's theme, depicts the typical teacher of the time.

Dan Busch and Kathy Jones diligently search for the books they need to read for credit in English.

Mrs. Grace Dawson and Mr. David Jones congratulate Dawson Joyner on his success in the race for State FTA president.

Girls' Association Sponsors

Girls' Association, of which every girl is a member, sponsored many worthwhile projects throughout the year. Greeley High Girls and mothers of all GHS students were invited to attend the annual Mothers' Tea in October. Those present were entertained with a reading by Sue Kula and music by the Modern Choir. After the program, cookies and punch were served. All homerooms donated food for Thanksgiving baskets, which were given to needy families in the area. Organ music, the orchestra, the Modern Choir, and readings by Sue Kula and Pat Kline set the mood for the White Christmas assembly. Colorado Boys' Ranch, Morrison Mountview School, and GHS's foster parent program were recipients of the money donated in white envelopes. GA planned and served at the Panhellenic Tea where a panel of college students told senior girls about college life, and the Modeling Board at Colorado State College put on a fashion show.

Marilyn Dieterle, Janice Griswold, and Pam Becander hear many comments about this cleverly decorated Thanksgiving basket as they carry it to the office where other baskets full of food are waiting to be delivered.

GA Officers were: Marilyn Houtchens, vice-president; Jane Elmblade, project chairman; Cappie Fine, welfare chairman; Janet Boyd, secretary; Jan Lundvall, president; Karel King, social chairman; Linda Brown, Pep Club representative; Linda Baab, GAA representative; Mary Evans, treasurer.

Many Worthwhile Projects

Lettermen's Club Supports Athletic Program

G Club plays an important role in the athletic program at Greeley High. By advertising and selling programs during athletic events, money is raised to buy staple athletic equipment. G Club also furnishes oranges for team members and sends flowers to ill G Club members. G Club officers for 1962-63 were: Frank Delgado, president; Tom Baggot, vice-president; and Robin Weathers, secretary-treasurer.

Key Club Organized at GHS

Dr. Richard Runnells, president of the Uptown Kiwanis Club, explains the purpose of Key Club to some interested boys.

Helping to plan the structure of the Key Club are Max Haskett, Joe Stander and Jim Basey.

Bob Larson and Butch Butler discuss plans for future Key Club activities with Mr. Biddle and Mr. Shoaf.

Key Club at Greeley High is a newly organized service organization co-sponsored by the Uptown Kiwanis Club and Greeley High. This organization's purpose is to improve scholarship and to aid other clubs and organizations.

Members are selected by letters of application and interviews before the board. Only a limited number of boys will be asked to join.

A meeting was held in March to determine the amount of interest and to explain the goals and purpose of the organization to interested boys. Dr. Richard Runnells, president of the Uptown Kiwanis Club, and Mr. Don Ruppe, a committeeman were present at the meeting. Mr. Richard Biddle, chairman of the sponsor committee, and Mr. Ernie Shoaf, sponsor, also attended.

The committeemen were: Butch Butler, chairman, pro tem; Max Haskett, vice chairman, pro tem; Bob Larson, secretary, pro tem; and Jim Basey and Joe Stander, members-at-large, pro tem.

Student Council Active

Officers of Student Council were: treasurer, Judy Stoll; sponsor, Mr. James Hawkins; secretary, Ardee McConnell; vice-president, Bob Shwayder; sportsmanship chairman, Bob Larson; president, Butch Butler.

Student Council has sponsored many activities this past year at Greeley High. It began the year with a drive to raise funds for the support of a foster child in Vietnam, and at Christmas a party was held for the underprivileged children in the Greeley area. In order to arouse spirit and enthusiasm for the baseball season, it sponsored a dance, the Foul Beat. Student Council has sponsored a convention for the past three years to nominate officers of the student body, thus enabling the students of GHS to play an active part in school government.

Highlighting the Christmas party was the distribution of presents by Santa Claus.

Student Council members Jan Lundvall and Pat Kroger help underprivileged children open their packages at the Christmas party sponsored each year.

Throughout Year

"What a way to get into a dance," exclaims Bob Larson upon arriving at the Foul Beat dance.

Beatniks turned out in full force at the Foul Beat dance held to stir up enthusiasm for the baseball season.

Student Council officers listen intently to Alan Smith while he lists the qualifications of the candidate he is nominating at the convention.

Ardee McConnell waits for a delegation to cast its votes during one of the many roll calls at the nominating convention.

Faculty and Classes

Greeley High teachers attend conferences and conventions which broaden their concepts, enabling them to come back with new life and vitality in their teaching methods. Thus they enrich students and inspire them with the desire to work.

New Building Program Initiated

Dr. Leslie Grimes, superintendent of schools, has been at the head of the present building program from its inception.

For twelve years Dr. Grimes has served the Greeley School system as superintendent of schools. Working with the school board, he has endeavored to keep up with the growing needs of the school system.

This year they initiated a new building program which is to be completed in 1964. A new high school, a new junior high school, and four elementary schools have been included in the plans. By bringing in many new ideas, such as windowless classrooms, round schools, and other recently-developed ideas for more effective teaching, a forward approach is being applied to the building program.

Mr. Turner admires an artist's conception of the new high school building, which is scheduled for occupancy in the fall of 1964.

Mr. Turner listens as someone seeks his advice in solving a problem.

MESSAGE TO STUDENTS

Students of Greeley High School, your experiences gained here, both in the classroom and in a great variety of activities, will continue to influence you after you have left these halls, and will lead you to greater accomplishments. These experiences can be but gateways to greater knowledge and demanding greater skill.

The challenges you face must be accepted with zeal and enthusiasm of young vigor, for the paths you tread will be unchartered and without precedent.

As teachers we are proud to have had a part in tempering your lives to meet the future. Our confidence is placed in you, that the best you have to give will be good enough to meet the challenge.

Robert W. Turner

Conferring with his secretary, Mrs. Angier, Mr. Turner goes over some papers.

Counselors Guide GHS Students

Director of guidance, Mr. Gerald Gardner, reviews the day's work with his secretary, Mrs. Betty Barnum. Mr. Gardner holds his master's degree at Colorado State College.

As attendance counselor, Mr. Ted Foster fills out admission and "dismission" slips for students. He earned his master's degree at Colorado State College.

Providing guidance to the students is the job of the counselors. Those who need advice pertaining to class problems and schedules may feel free to talk to the counselors. Students may come to the counselors for help in making plans for after graduation. Advice and literature are always available to anyone who wants them.

Before counseling a student, Mr. Wallace Anderson looks over some test results. He holds his master's degree at Colorado State College.

Looking at one of the many pamphlets on colleges that are available in the student room is Mrs. Marcia Osborn. She received her master's degree at Colorado State College.

Mr. James Baggot explains the vocational interest profile scores to Melvin Bruntz. He received his master's degree at Colorado State College.

District IBM Facilities Expanded

Mr. Richard Biddle's job as assistant principal has many aspects. In addition to being head of all office operations, he is the head co-ordinator for the IBM Data Processing machines. Some of his additional duties include scheduling our school building for various activities, dealing with disciplinary problems, and arranging bus transportation for all school events.

This year Mr. Biddle was in charge of the State Data Processing Conference. Schools from all over Colorado were represented. The purpose of this conference was to share ideas and standardize the Data Processing procedure in the public schools.

Before running off the new Greeley High student directory, Mr. Richard Biddle makes adjustments on the IBM accounting machine.

Mr. Gene Cook sorts the daily attendance cards on the IBM sorter.

Mrs. Charlotte Ludwig tells a new office assistant her duties.

One of the duties of Mrs. Jean Graefe is typing student report cards on the IBM key punch.

Mrs. Juana Hipkins, forensics and English teacher, evaluates a student's speech. She received her bachelor's degree from Southwestern State College.

Teachers find students' antics humorous at times. Mr. John Girault, speech and dramatics teacher, earned his master's degree from Denver University.

Mrs. Ruth Kline answers questions on giving an effective speech in her sophomore speech class. Mrs. Kline has a bachelor's degree from Denver University.

Speech, Library Augment Program

Speech is one of the most valuable courses being taught at Greeley High because it must be used throughout life. In addition to providing the opportunity to practice public speaking the entire year, this course helps students gain the ease and poise needed in public speaking. To emphasize this importance it is being coordinated with the English classes. Sophomores have speech and English on alternating days.

In as much as the school library should be the center around which the educational program revolves, it has been the intention of the librarian to improve the resources of the Greeley High School library. New volumes have been added in the areas of social science, math, and history. Reference books have been moved and taken out of the locked cases, in order that they might be made more readily available to students and teachers. Some new reference books have been added to the basic collection, thus enlarging and improving the GHS library.

Among the many responsibilities of the librarian is checking the fine list. Mrs. Patricia Latta, librarian, earned her bachelor's degree at the University of Colorado.

Bonnie Bauer declares that looking up titles in the card file makes it easier to find the necessary books. The card catalogue is a complete record of the books contained in the library.

Languages Aid World Communication

Mr. Lynn Sandstedt is pointing out the regions of Spain to one of his Spanish classes. He received his bachelor's degree from Colorado State College.

Greeley High School has one of the finest and most modern language departments in the state. All three modern languages have new Audio-Lingual Materials tapes and the corresponding books and notebooks. A change-over has been made from the traditional to the oral approach.

Who says Latin is declining in importance? One hundred thirty-one students were enrolled in Latin classes at Greeley High School. Latin provides a good background for English, and gives insight into the language spoken since infancy. It also helps in understanding terms used in science, medicine, and law.

Pausing to answer a question from one of her students is Mrs. Joyce Glidden, Latin teacher at Greeley High. She received her bachelor's degree from Morningside College.

Sherry Wisdom listens intently as she attempts to repeat a sentence given on the tape. She, like most other language students, finds that oral drills require concentration.

Mrs. Verna McDonald helps one of her first year German classes build its vocabulary by teaching them common, everday words. She earned her bachelor's degree at Randolph Macon Women's College, and she teaches French and German.

Among the many duties performed by Miss Delores Dilworth is checking the attendance for her French classses. She obtained her bachelor's degree from Colorado State College.

English Program

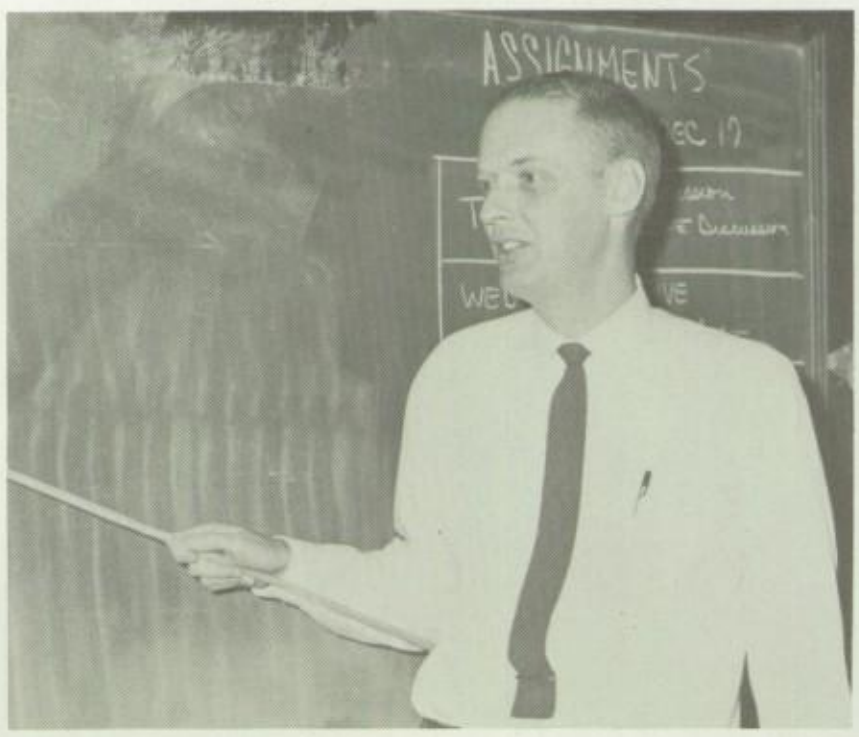
Mrs. Gladys Rhodes checks her daily schedule for her junior English classes. She has a bachelor's degree from Iowa State College.

Mrs. Grace Dawson enjoys a cup of coffee at the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Banquet of Future Teachers of America. In addition to teaching senior English, she sponsors the local chapter of FTA. Mrs. Dawson received her master's degree from Colorado State College and also attended the John Hay Fellow Humanities Institute at Oregon University.

Mrs. Mary Dungan glances at the "Greeley Highlight" between sophomore English classes. She has a master's degree from Colorado State College.

Mrs. Lois Haugen checks over student assignments during her conference period. Mrs. Haugen earned a master's degree from Colorado State College.

Instructions on diagramming sentences are given to a junior English class by Mr. Fred Koteskey. He received his master's degree from Colorado State College.



Streamlined at GHS

Mr. James Hawkins gives some suggestions to one of his senior English students. He received his master's degree from Adams State College.

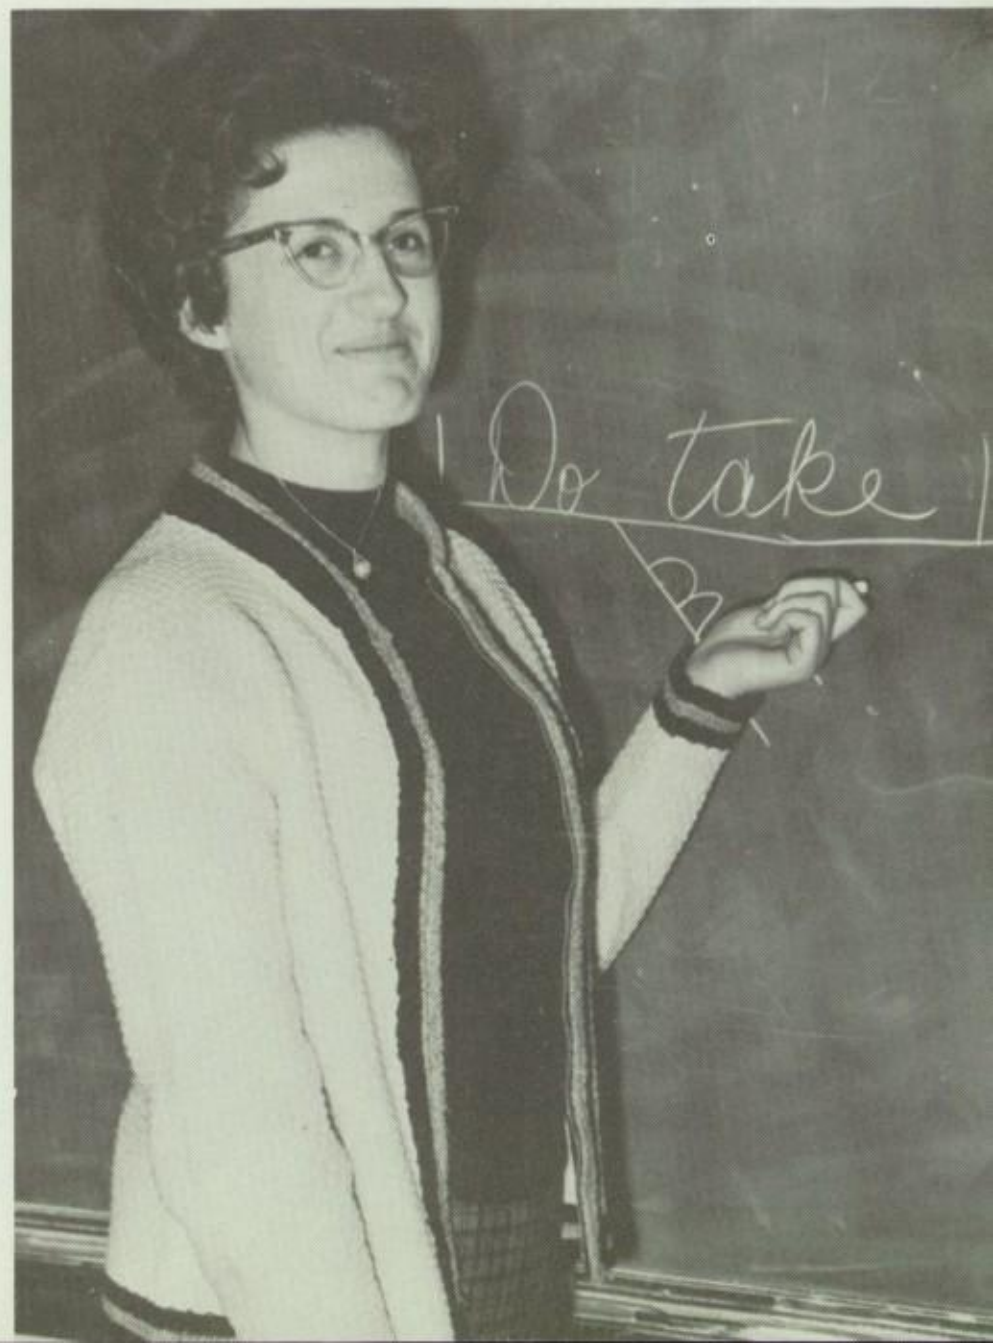
Mr. Geoffrey Cole listens while students in his junior English class read drama from their literature books. Mr. Cole received his master's degree from Colorado State College.

A new mood was set this year throughout the English department. Students are now being placed according to their abilities rather than their grade level in the hopes that each student will progress at a more rapid rate.

Beginning this year a change was made in the sophomore English-speech plan. Until this year speech and English have been alternated and each course given for an entire semester. Now the speech classes are combined with English and speech is held one day a week within the English class.

Mr. Carl Erickson helps sophomore English students with their vocabulary. He has a master's degree from Colorado State College.

The proper way to diagram a sentence is explained by Diana Burton, a senior at Greeley High.

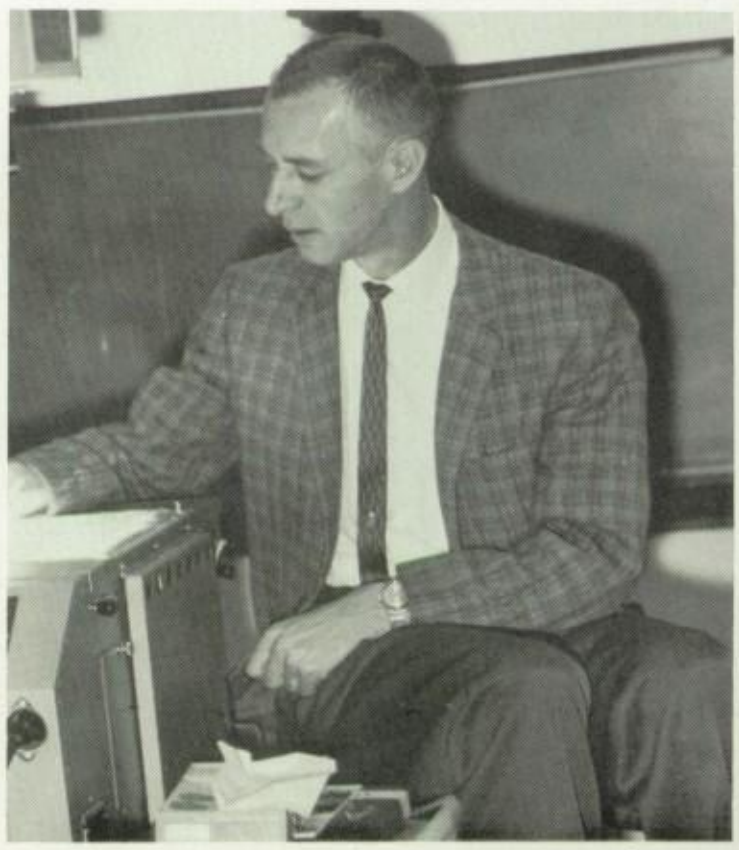


Mr. David Jones waits for students to respond to a question in one of his Social Problems classes. He received his master's degree at Colorado State College.

Using a map to illustrate important points in his sophomore modern world history classes is Mr. Robert Williams. Mr. Williams has a master's degree from Colorado State College.

Guest Speakers Spark

Jay Johnson and Sharon Russell point out places of current world interest on the globe in their junior history class.



Mr. Norbert Grunczewski uses an overhead projector to show important points to his Social Problems classes.

The showing of government filmstrips is a frequent occurrence in Mr. Eldon Browers's American history classes. He received his master's degree and Diploma of Specialization from Colorado State College.

History Classes

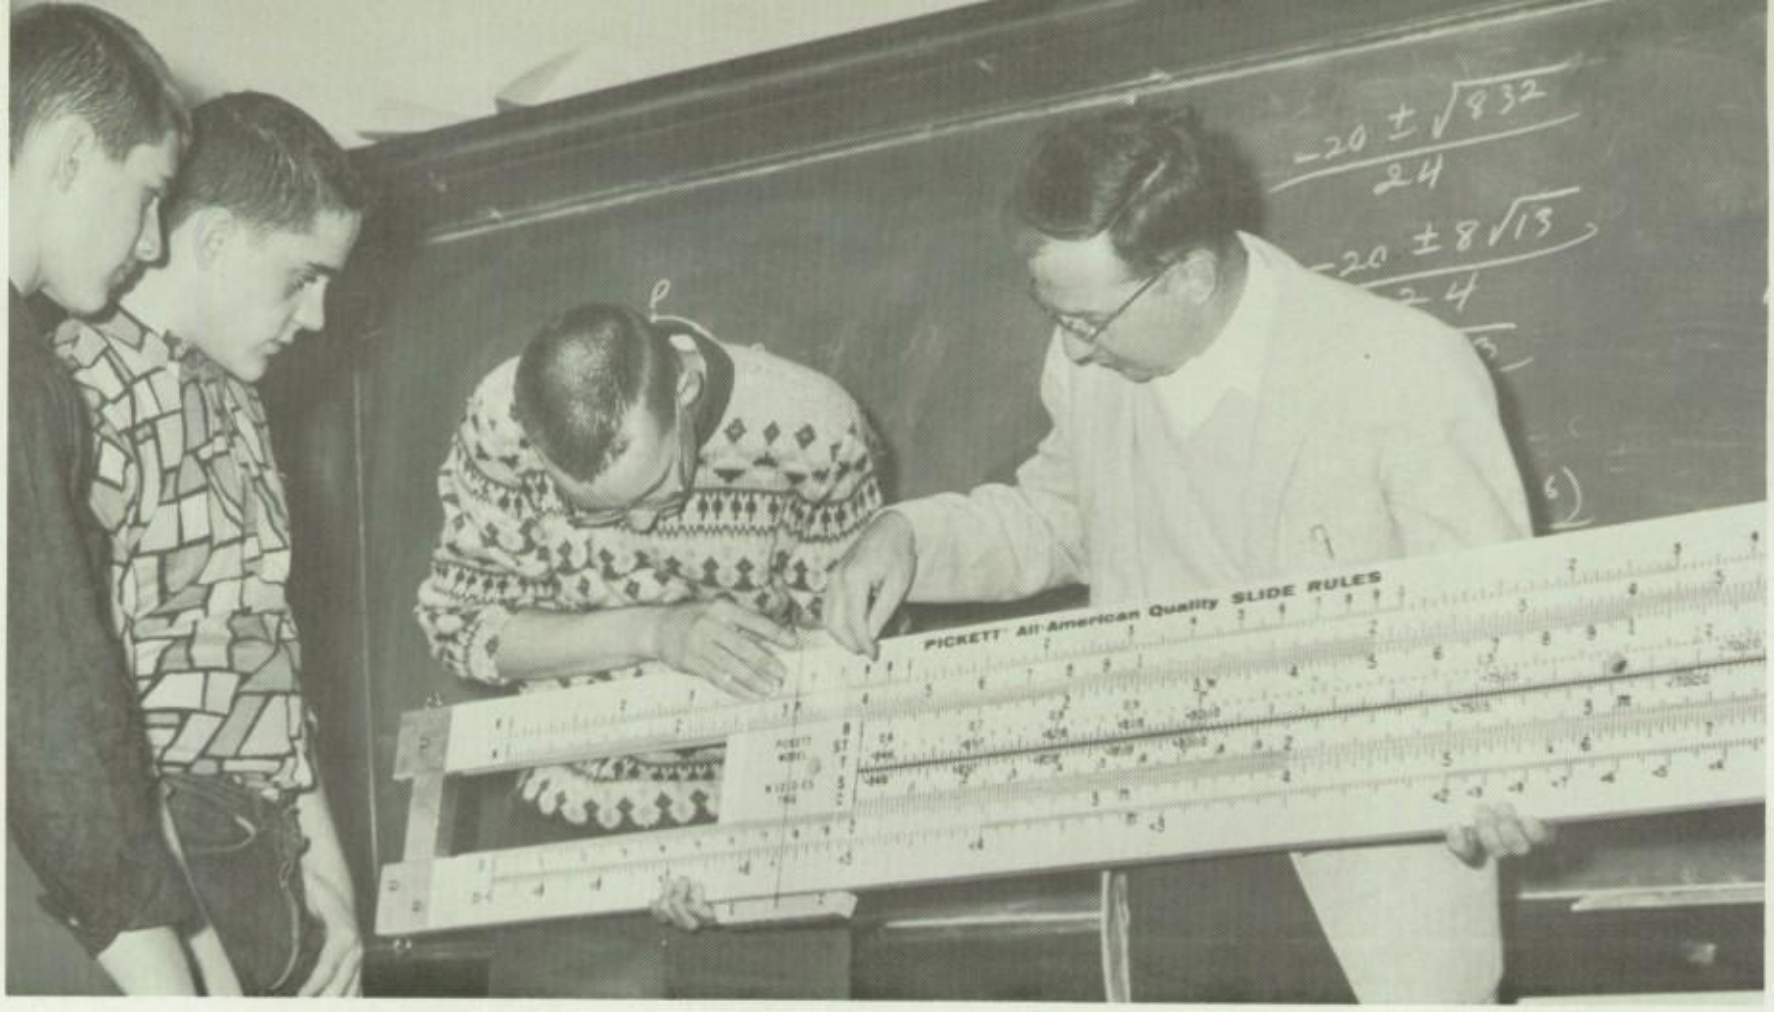
Routine classes of American history for juniors and modern world history for sophomores were enriched through informal talks by foreign students from the nearby Colorado State College campus. Not only were these talks informative and interesting, but they also related facts and statistics to the students in a more realistic manner.

Mr. Clyde Guenther shows his world history class how to outline the history covering the Roman Empire. He teaches modern world history, and he has his master's degree from Iowa University.

Junior history instructor, Mr. Kenneth Schuman finds the use of maps beneficial to the students' learning. He has a master's degree at Colorado State College.

Mr. Earl Wells listens attentively to a senior psychology student's questions. Mr. Wells has his master's degree from Colorado State College.

Humor helps keep Mr. Leo Simon's modern world history classes lively. Mr. Simon received a master's degree from Colorado State College.

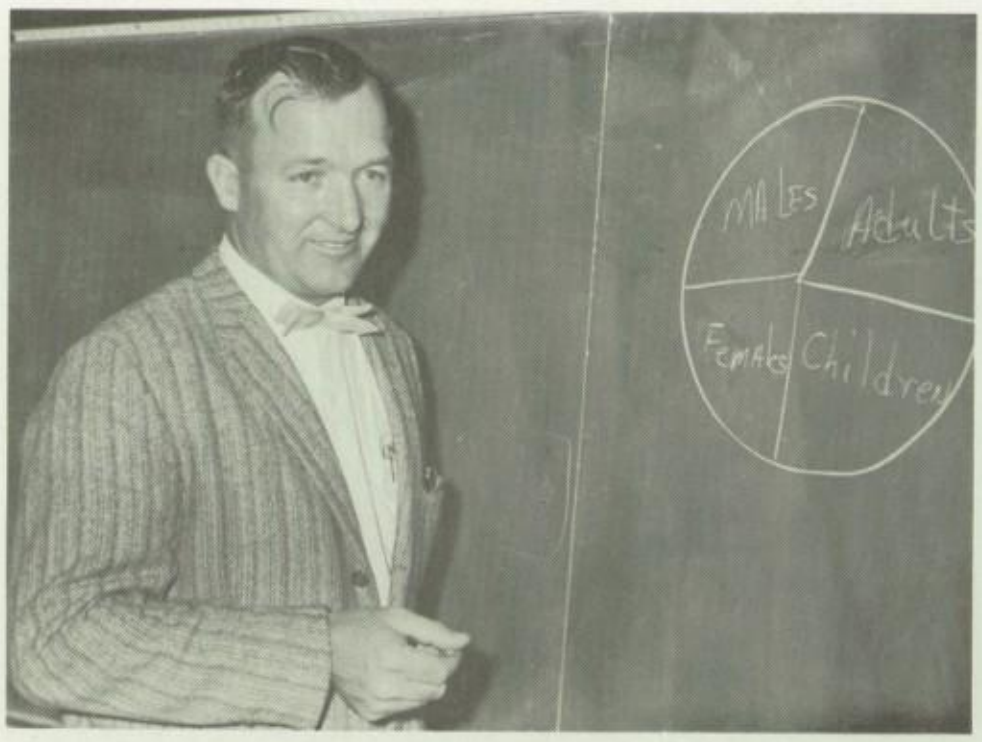


Mr. Wiebke shows Terry Geiser, Dick McGlothlen, and Tom Armstrong how to operate a slide rule.

Math Courses Stress

With the emphasis on mastery, the Greeley High School mathematics courses have attempted to instill in students a greater understanding of basic concepts and to help them become more proficient in performing fundamental operations. At the same time, they have tried to stimulate imaginative thinking by varying the problems.

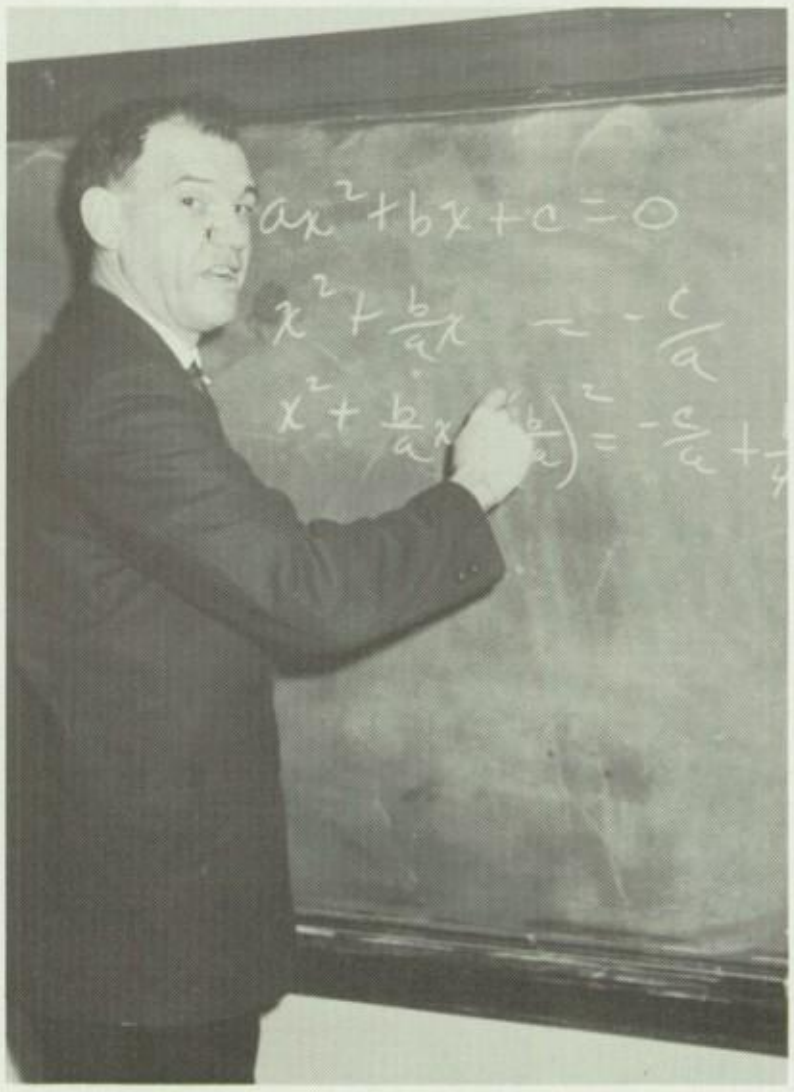
It is often helpful to use objects such as pencils, string, and books in explaining concepts in solid geometry. Mr. Almer Wiebke, advanced mathematics instructor who received his bachelor's degree from Colorado State College, employs this method to illustrate a solid geometry theorem.



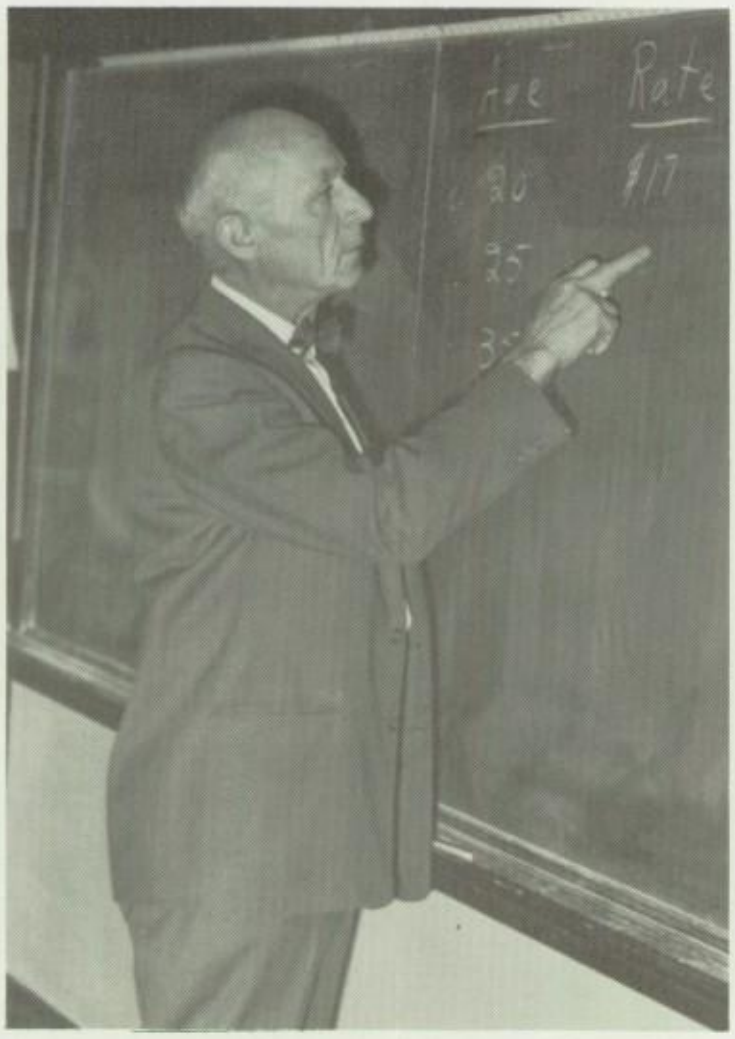
Mr. Ernie Shoaf explains the application of a circular graph to one of his general math classes. He received his bachelor's degree from Western State College.

Preparation for the next day's lesson is part of a teacher's daily routine. Mr. Thayer Crowfoot, who holds his bachelor's degree at Colorado State University, reviews the material he intends to cover the next day.

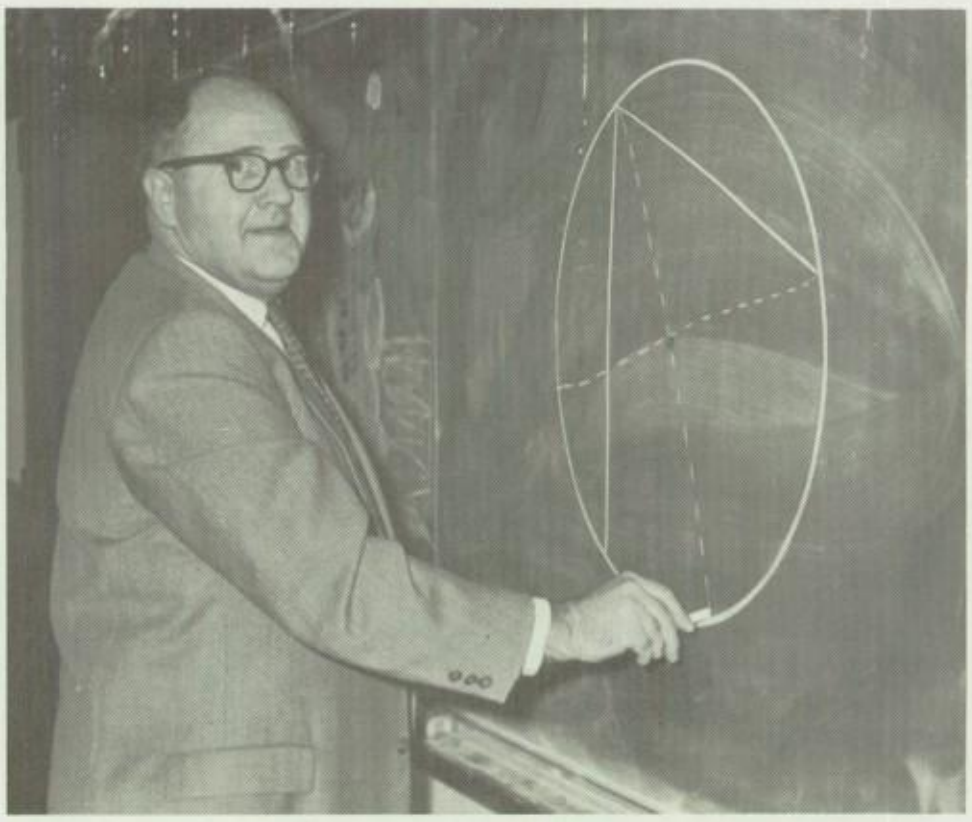
Mastery of Skills



One of three ways to solve a second degree quadratic equation is to complete the square. Mr. Dale Thompson demonstrates how this is done to a second-year algebra class. He received his master's degree at Colorado State College.



Mr. Clarence Coffey, general math instructor, explains that age is the determining factor in figuring insurance payments. He holds his master's degree at Wyoming State University.

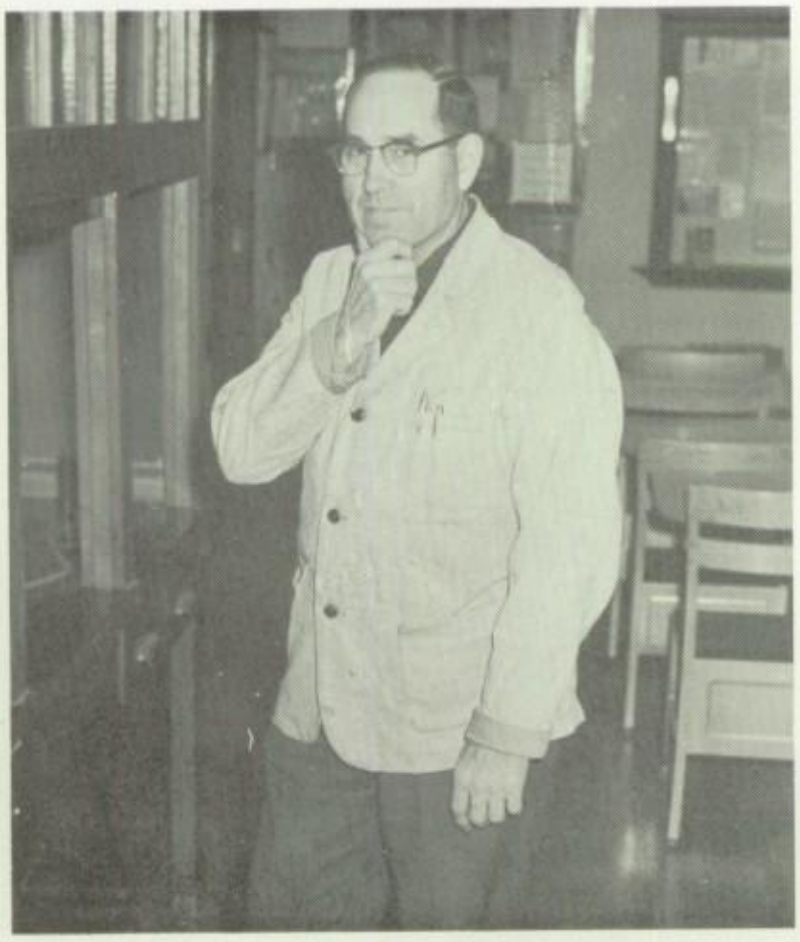


For the "umpteenth" time, Mr. Joe Springston tells his geometry students that "the short way home will get you there every time." He received his master's degree at Colorado State College.

Daryl Brumley and Nolan Hendricks find that dissecting a crayfish can be interesting. They have learned that trays, scalpels, tweezers, pins, and scissors are standard dissecting equipment.

BSCS Program Introduced

Mr. John A. Berry pauses a moment to consider a problem encountered by one of his chemistry students. He received his master of science degree from Colorado State University.

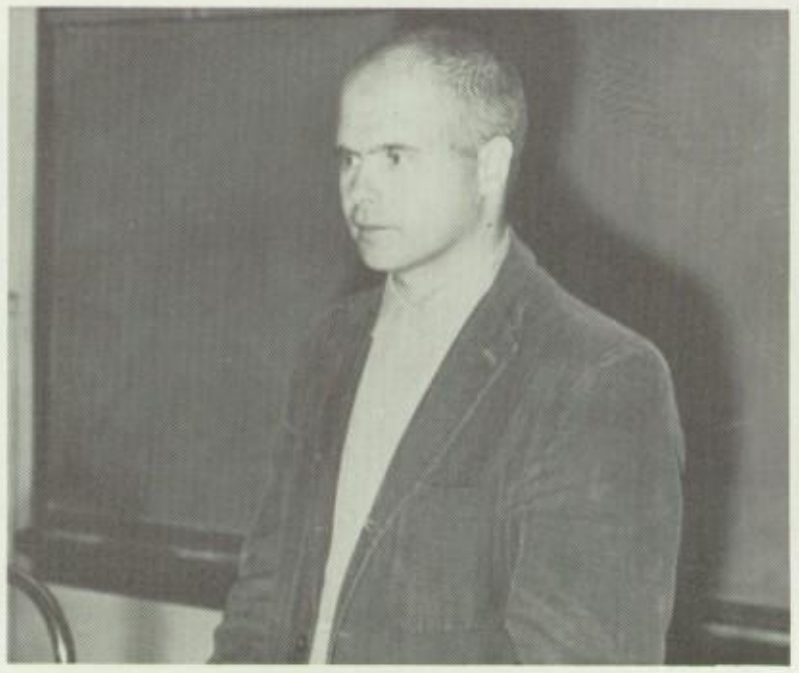


The biology lab contains many different and unusual items such as this rubber plant, which is being examined by Mr. Kenneth Tegtman. He earned his master of arts degree from Colorado State College and teaches biology and botany-zoology.

Although Greeley High School's chemistry, physical science, and physics courses are outstanding, biology was stressed this year. Participating in an experiment which is expected to revolutionize the teaching of biology, students were taught with the Biological Science Curriculum Study. Each student was given a set containing textbook, laboratory manual, and teacher's guide. "To introduce students to science and scientific inquiry, to make them intelligent, literate citizens in a scientific age" is the principal goal of the BSCS. These materials are designed to update biology curricula by including recent advances in knowledge and a larger percentage of laboratory work.

in Science Department

A jar of algae contains many interesting sights to Greeley High biology teacher, Mr. Gilbert Culter. He earned his master of arts degree from Colorado State College.



Mr. Ray Congdon listens attentively to one of his student's questions about an assignment. He teaches physical science and obtained his bachelor of science degree from Winona State College.

The animals in the biology lab can be sure the care and attention given them by biology teacher, Mr. Ben Slater, will be the finest. He earned his master of arts degree from Colorado State College.

Demonstrating the principles of a four-cycle engine by use of a cut-away model is Mr. Wilson Henderson, teacher of physical science and physics. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Macalester College.

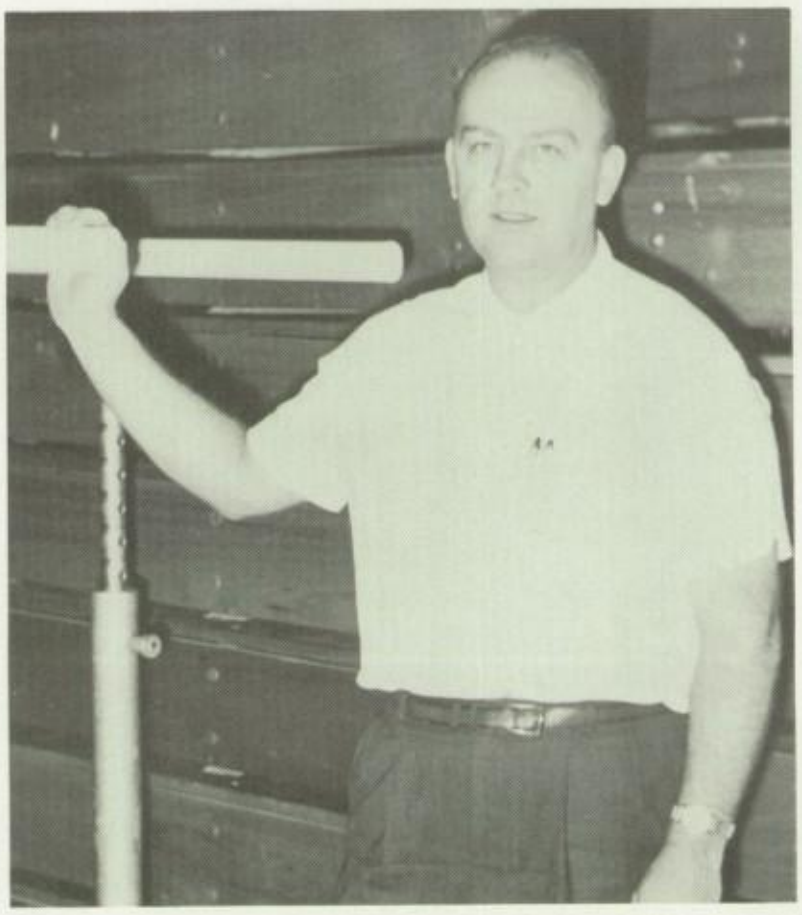
Fitness Through Fun

Physical education programs in the schools have become increasingly important during the past few years. As more emphasis is being placed on physical fitness, new ideas are being initiated to meet these needs.

Girls' gym classes are developed around "fun, figure, fitness, facts, and further skills." The curriculum is designed to give all students the necessary exercise and aid in developing skill in team and individual sports.

Taking roll is one of Mrs. Chloe Childers' duties as girls' gym teacher. She received her bachelor's degree from Kansas University.

Time was taken out from the hectic schedule during semester finals for square dancing in the gym classes.



Mr. Robert Kula attended the University of Minnesota and Southwest Missouri State and received his bachelor's degree in physical education. He is preparing to demonstrate skills on the parallel bars.

Left with the job of operating the record player, Mrs. Bertha Huff looks over the selection of records during square dancing. She received her master's degree from Colorado State College.

During his conference period, Mr. Claude Funk checks over some Practical English papers. He has a master's degree from Colorado State College.

Mrs. Mary Gardner demonstrates to one of her typing classes the placement of some of the keys on the typewriter. Mrs. Gardner has a bachelor's degree from Drake University and Colorado State College.

Mrs. Dorothy Cook demonstrates the method of solving a bookkeeping problem. She has a bachelor's degree from Colorado State College.

Career Training Available

Business and consumer problems and Business English were two new courses introduced into the business department at Greeley High this year. These new features have made the business program more extensive and supplement the courses already offered.

Business and consumer problems is an elective course offered to seniors and designed to further the students' knowledge of the world's business problems, national economy, and the role of the consumer.

In place of Senior English, Business English is offered to students who wish to enter the field of business.

Mrs. Lina Arthur enjoys a good laugh with one of her shorthand students. Mrs. Arthur has a master's degree from Colorado State College.

Mr. Donald Gorman pauses on his way to class to answer a question raised by one of his driver's education students. Mr. Gorman, who received his master's degree at Colorado State College, teaches driver's education, American history and athletics.

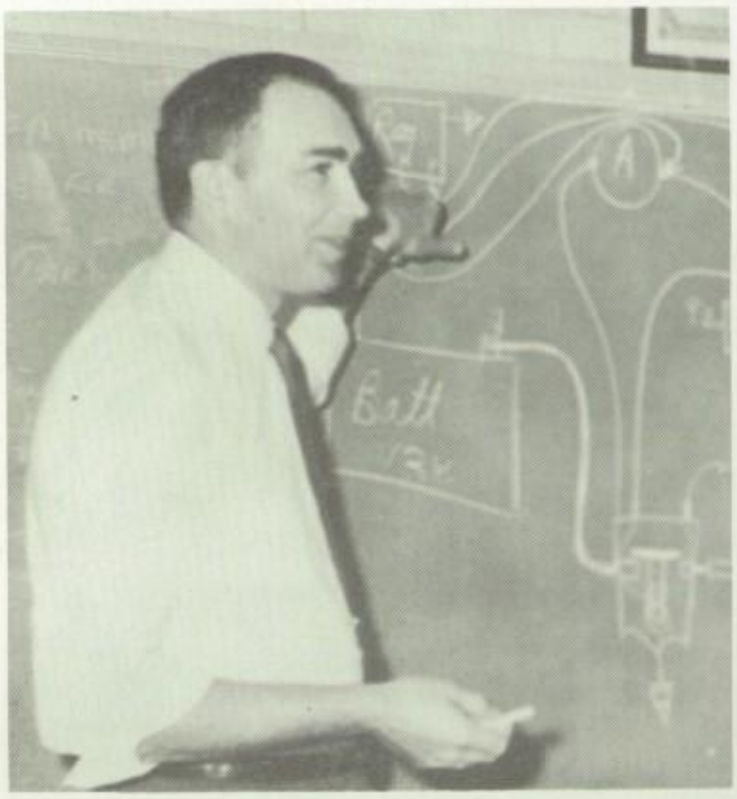
Pointing to a sketch of angles, Mr. James Bornemeier tells his mechanical drawing class the best angles to use in constructing a house. In addition to his classes in mechanical drawing, Mr. Bornemeier is also the sponsor of Spud. He obtained his master's degree at Colorado State College.

Arts Department

In the arts department are included many types of courses. Among the classes in this section are home economics, auto mechanics, basic electricity, mechanical drawing, metalwork, woodwork, agriculture, art, and driver education. These courses prepare the student for the future by teaching them useful skills.

Special emphasis was placed on basic electricity, a new course this year. This class provides an excellent background for those who may wish to enter this field, although its main purpose is to teach a better understanding of applied electrical problems in general education. For those planning to be engineers, this course is essential.

Mr. Vic Oliver demonstrates a use of the power saw for a beginning wood working class. Mr. Oliver, who teaches wood shop, received his master's degree at Colorado State College.



Explaining the principles of electricity in a car is Mr. Edward Hein, teacher of auto mechanics at Greeley High School. Mr. Hein received his master's degree from Colorado State University.

Mrs. Carol Merrill adds a bulb to the tumbleweed Christmas tree in the clothing room. Mrs. Merrill, who teaches home economics and is a senior counselor, received her master's degree at Colorado State College.

Differences in kind and quality of seed are explained to one of the agricultural classes by Mr. Melvin Adams. Mr. Adams, in addition to teaching vocational agriculture, also teaches auto mechanics. He received his master's degree from Colorado State University.

Introduces New Courses

Mrs. Patricia Abbott, who teaches art at Greeley High, obtained her master's degree at Colorado State College. She checks through a book on color combination before advising a student about colors to be used for painting.

During metal shop, the use of a grinder is explained by Mr. Pete D'Amato. Mr. D'Amato, who received his master's degree from Colorado State College, teaches metal shop, basic electricity, and athletics at Greeley High.

Mr. Roscoe Booth prepares to direct the orchestra in a rehearsal of "South Pacific." He received his master's degree from Colorado University.

Leading the band through the medley of songs they will play at the half-time of the Denver Broncos football game is Mr. Avin Curtis, the band instructor. He received his master's degree at Wisconsin University.

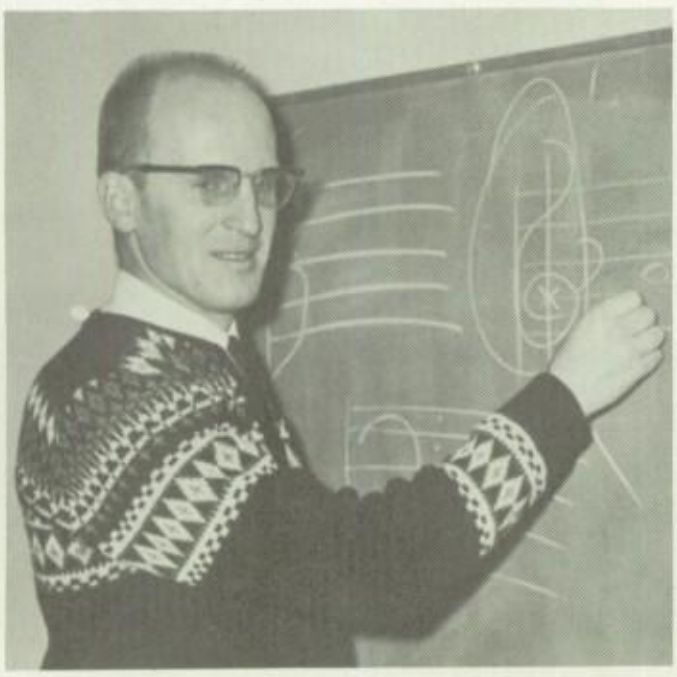
Musicians on Nationwide TV

Greeley High's music department is divided into three sections: band, orchestra, and choir. Through out the year these classes present concerts to the school and community.

This year the marching band was selected to perform at the half-time ceremony of the Denver Broncos football game on Thanksgiving Day. In addition to this honor, the band performed at all home football games, the spring band concert, Band Day, and in the Colorado State College and Greeley High School Homecoming Parades. Twenty-nine members of the band were sent to the Northern Conference and All-State Bands.

Modern choir was also selected to participate in the half-time performance of the Denver Broncos football game. The Advanced and Modern Choirs competed in the Northern Conference Festival. Choirs also sold fruit cakes to raise enough money for a record of the songs done during the year that are given to each choir member and to buy supplies for the department.

Explaining how chords are built on the treble clef, Mr. Curtis Sprenger shows his Advanced Choir how to compose a melody. Mr. Sprenger, who directs the choirs, obtained his master's degree at Colorado State College.



An outstanding performance was given by the French horn section at the annual Fall Concert of the concert band.

Cooks and Janitors Serve GHS Students

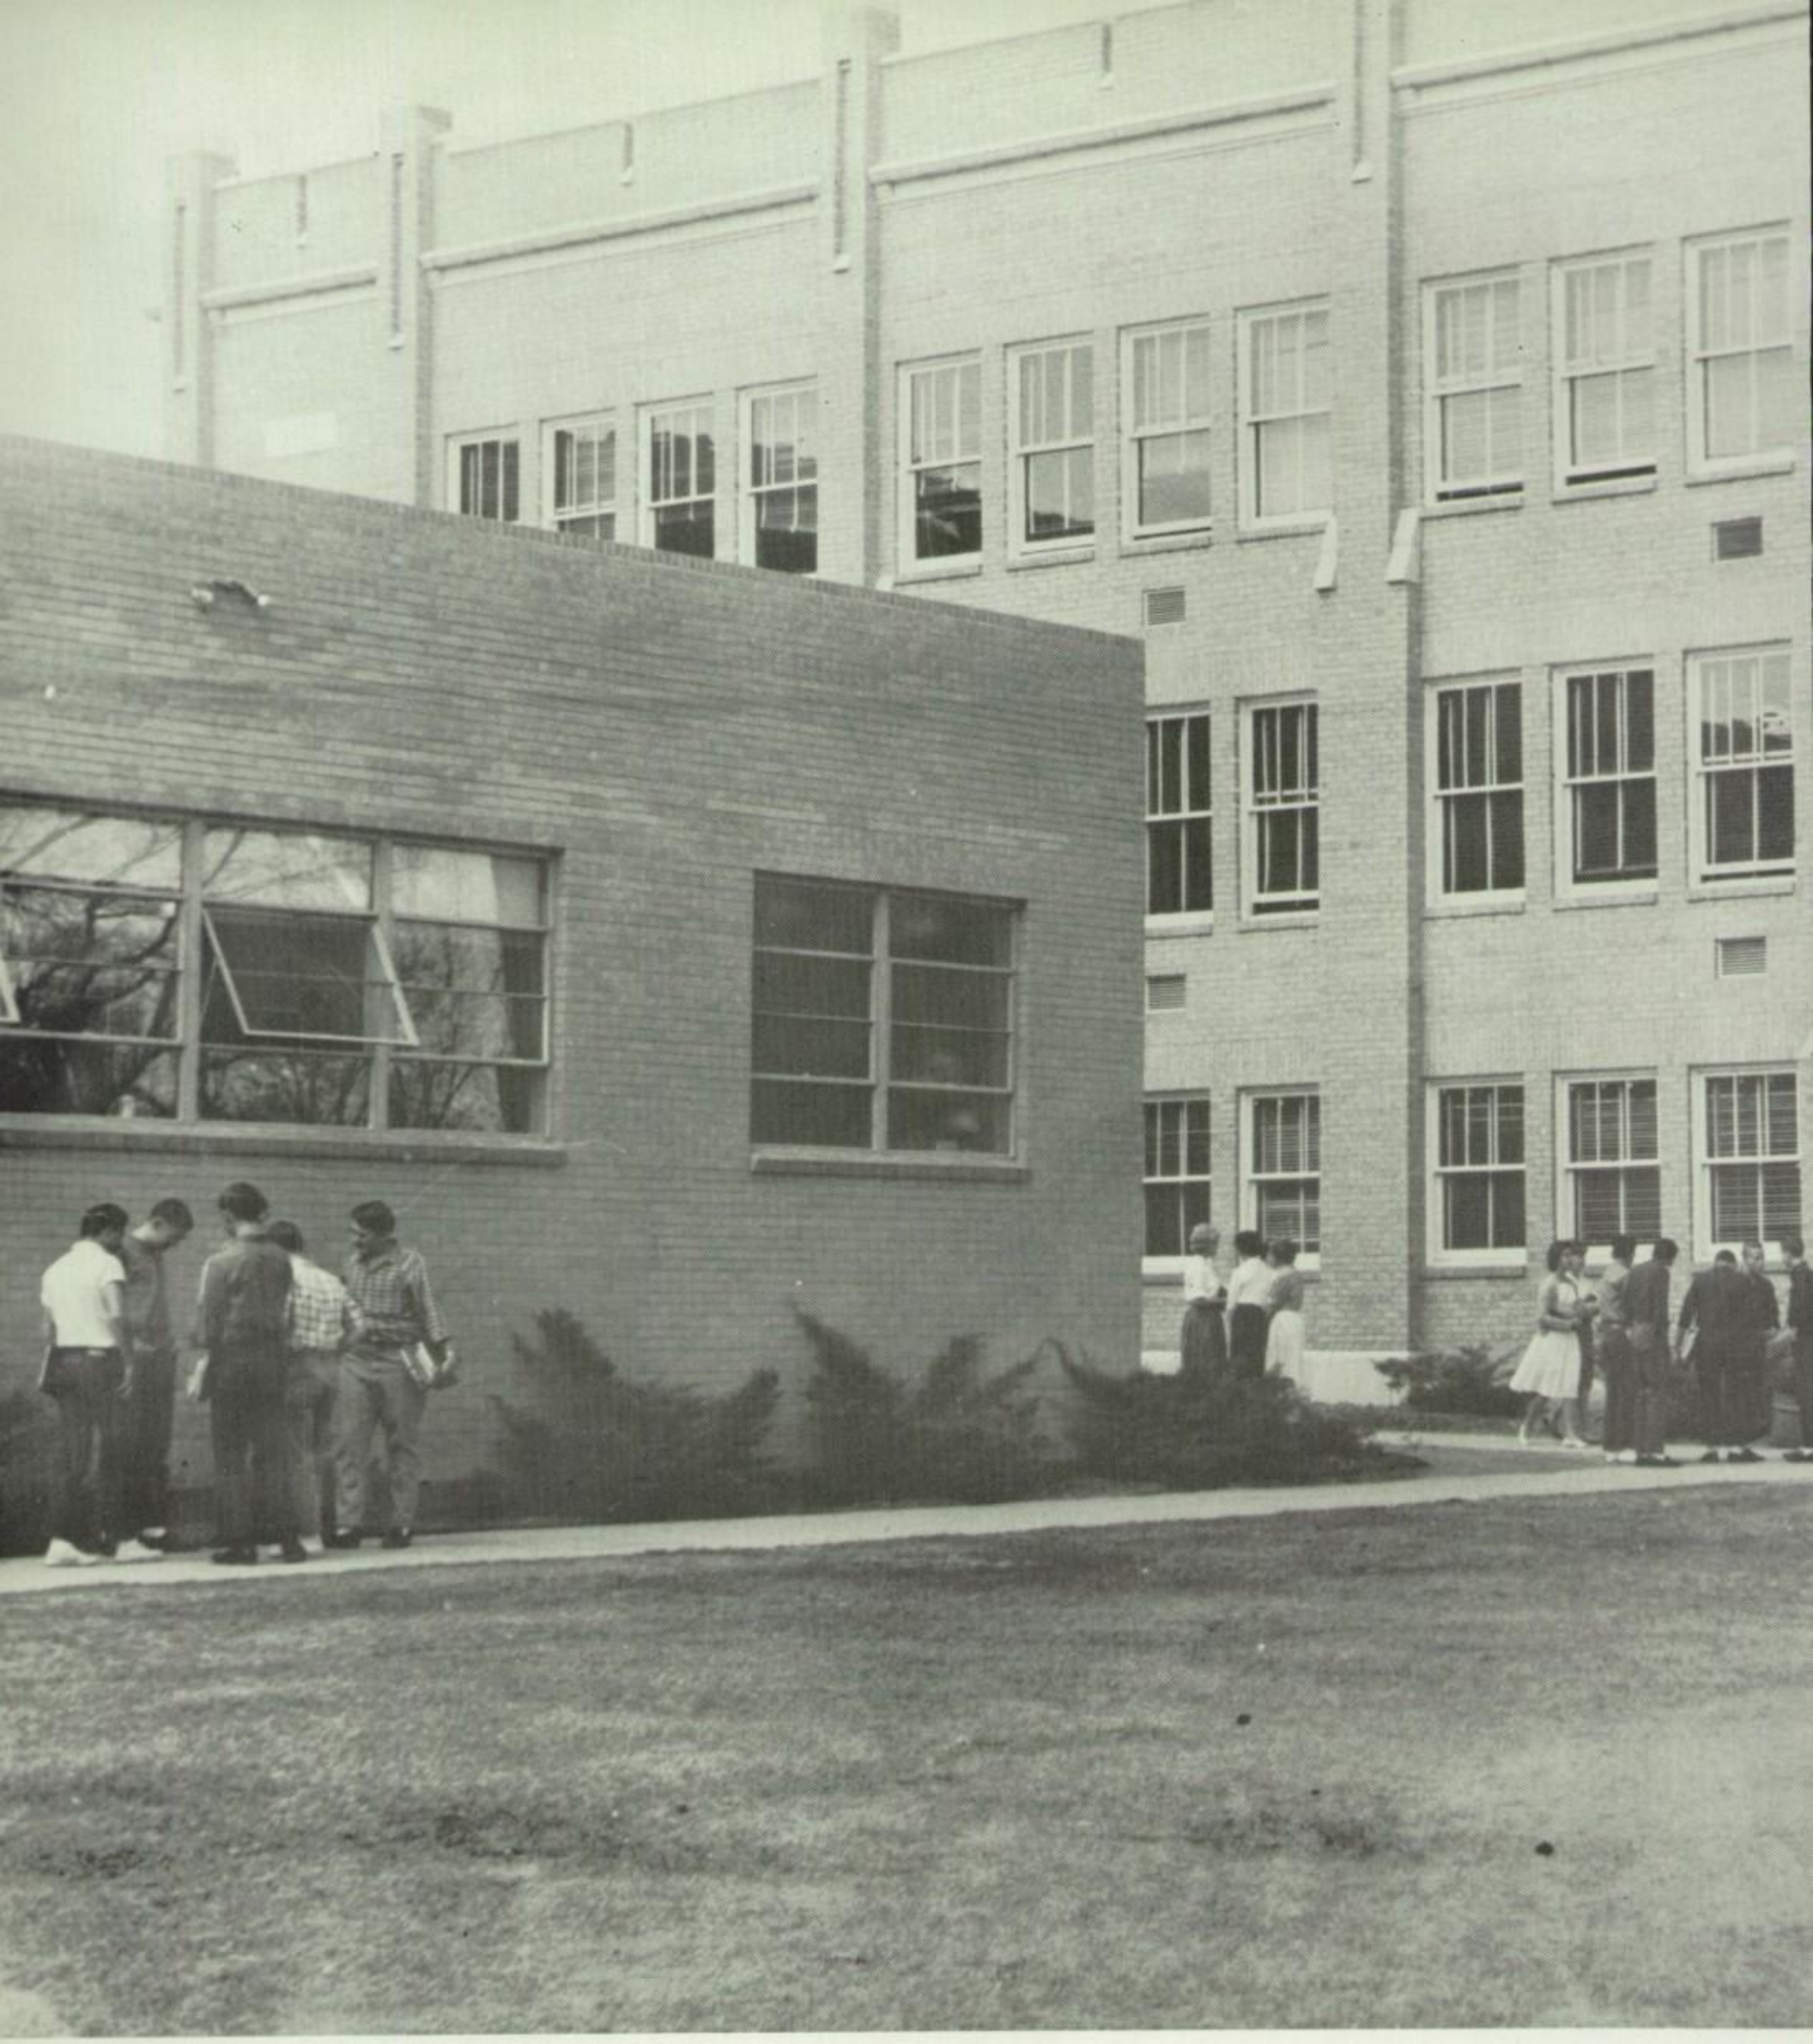
First floor custodian at GHS, Mr. Carroll H. Hutchins, prepares to leave a classroom after cleaning it at the end of the school day.

Dishing up dessert before the hectic lunch hour is one of the GHS cooks, Mrs. Richard Grams.

Persons who receive very little credit for their services at GHS are the cooks and custodians. Well-rounded meals are served each school day to many GHS students during three lunch hours. Menus are prepared by the head school dietician, Mrs. Leona Hayes. Custodians work long, hard hours to keep the school clean for the use of students and public.

Head cook, Mrs. Helen Sperlock, takes a tray of barbecued chicken from one of the large ovens in the kitchen.

Mr. Del Greenwood, head custodian at GHS, checks the thermostat before turning on the furnace on a cold winter day.



Students

The teenagers of today are the leaders and followers of tomorrow. This is the destiny of each new generation. Students at Greeley High School have set high goals for themselves in learning to be good citizens. Their destinations are often reached and sometimes surpassed.

Dear Jean!

Jean don't forget
all of the wonderful times we have together. All but for this year. I really missed ya calling me and not coming to see me. I had alot of good
But we have like fun.

Dear Jean,

I have known you for years now and have enjoyed every day of it. I hope our friendship will last forever. I may visit our last yet.

Jean,

Hi there and good-bye to good Old G.H.S. I will always remember our fun times even back with Sharon in the 4th grade. Be good & Best Wishes Always!

Love Ya
Carla

Dear Jean,

I have really had a blast with you all of these years. You're a real cute gal with loads of personality.

Love
Margie

Hi Jean,

I must say you are a complete stranger to me but I hope we have a good time this summer. I hope you have a nice vacation too. I know you will have a good time. Have a way
